RECORDING THE DAY

Rumbling and groaning, the busses lumber into the driveway of WHS, depositing their load of shuffling, heavy-lidded students at the front door. In the student parking lot, brakes screech and car doors slam, as those students privileged enough to arrive via private transportation begin to trickle into the building. The corridors bustle with morning activity.

For several moments the halls reverberate with the rattling of locker doors, dropping of books, and squeals of students discussing the activities of the past week-end. Then there is silence, which signifies that everyone has rushed to homeroom in order to join in the pledge and listen to the morning announcements and the infamous, "Will all students on the call list please report to the office." The day has officially begun.

There's no place like school.

Five more minutes 'til the bell rings.

Whoops! I forgot my English assignment . . .

Time for homeroom, girls.

Dressed to impress . . .

I need a refill . . .

Getting ready to record the year . . .

The early morning sounds are repeated at each of the day's locker breaks, increasing almost exponentially in volume as the day wears on.

Jefe's seal of approval.

Do you like them? Do you like them?

Here we come . . .

I think I lost a filling!

Working hard, huh?

Caught in the act!

We just rolled out of bed, but here we are.

There they go again!

Oh! They just waxed the floors!

During classes one can hear the endless scratch of pencils and pens on paper and chalk on the chalkboard, along with escaping yawns, tapping fingers, and, every once in a while, a snore or two. In the English wing, an analysis of Moby Dick and a discussion of Julius Ceasar compete to be heard above the impassioned cries of a student delivering his Oral English speech. On the floor below, foreign language scholars may be heard emitting sounds which resemble "salve," "hola," and "bonjour," to the accompaniment of the clinking typewriters of the keyboarding classes. In the math wing, hapless students struggle with the theories of Euclid and Pythagorus, at the same time that history buffs explore ancient Egypt, Medieval Europe, and the evolution of the United States. In the science wing, students study everything from physical science to physics, and, on rare and sacred occasions engage in "rod-dropping" activities. Students in gym classes participate in games, which range from shipwreck to softball and, as of this year, join in an immensely popular mandatory swimming unit as well. Those fortunate enough to have a free block congregate in the library or the cafeteria. As always, five minutes before the bell is due to ring, books and notebooks slam, students sigh, and all eyes turn to the clock. Teachers race against the bell and attempt to finish the topic for the day.

Triple trouble.

Let's all do the physics handshake.

Fun with bio . . .

After the fall.

Come on, Peter, smile!

Do you wanna be an ath-lete?

In Doc Baker's class . . .

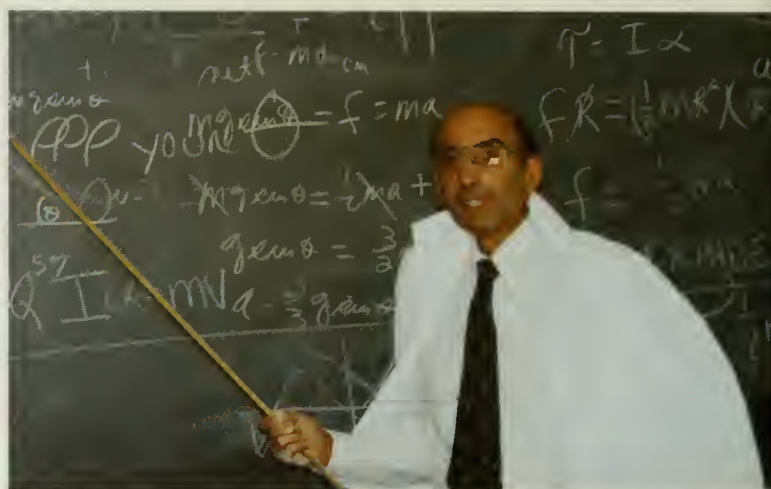

Bio buddies!

PJ Day

Caped purveyor of physics' evil.

The blind leading the blind.

Take a valium, Norm!

Noncyclophotophosphorylation . . . who cares?

Smile for the camera.

Hard at work . . .

I finally got it!

Picture perfect!

Business as usual.

When's the rally going to start??

I just love school.

Jammin' to the tunes . . .

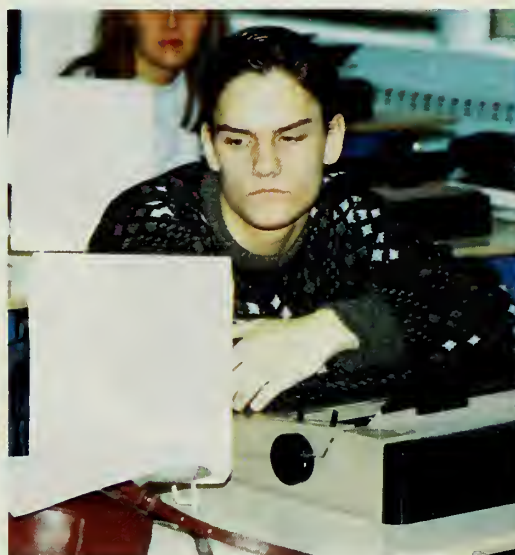

Really, we are doing work!

I never knew math could be this much fun!

The angels of gym class . . .

Does it really matter if it's a "z" or a "q"?

Good job, Miss Dillon!

The sign of happiness . . .

Lunch block arrives and everyone flocks to the cafeteria. This year, much to the dismay of the school community, a staffing cut-back forced the elimination of one service line. For some, it was a true catastrophe as it resulted in an even longer wait for nourishment. However this tragedy was made up for by the introduction of "Mucho Nachos," and the new super, soft pretzels. The cafeteria's walls echo with sound as chatting students fill their stomachs with food, and relax after the tension of the morning's classes.

The three amigos.

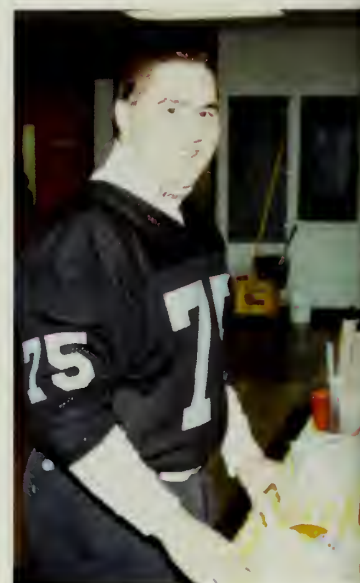

Thank goodness, it's lunch time!

Can you identify everything on your lunch tray?

Give or take a few moving objects . . .
NO!
Not all the time.
God, no!

Decisions! Decisions!

The lunch bunch.

Lunch looks great. May I have some more?

An apple a day . . .

Parlez vous francaise?

More salad, dear?

The last three blocks of the day inch by very slowly, and when at last the clock reads two fifteen and the bell has rung, shouts of joy erupt in the corridors. Students throw their books into bags and head to busses, cars, after-school meetings, or to the locker rooms for sports. Another day is over and the weekend draws ever closer.

Huh?!??

Je ne sais pas . . .

Time to admit defeat.

I think I can . . . I think I can . . .

Andy and his fans.

Bedtime . . .

Mike and his harem.

Matching babes.

The MONSTER!

Skippin' out.

Happiness is Green Pride Week!

That's my ball!

We're no angels . . .

What do you think of Mr. Hargreaves's ties?

Chuckle . . . (She just laughed) Tylenol!

They're really quite interesting. Out of date! (said w/a smirk)

I like them! Groovy, Man . . .

They're quite stylish . . . Whatever floats his boat!

GREEN YEARS DEDICATION

Mr. Richard J. Stack

Some Comments Offered by Tom Brown on Behalf of his Friend and Colleague, Dick Stack

On behalf of Mr. Stack, I would like to convey his deepest, most heartfelt thanks to you, the members of the Class of 1991, for having dedicated your yearbook to him. He much appreciates and is deeply moved by the honor all of you have bestowed upon him, as well as for all the cards and letters he has received from you during his absence. When he is feeling better - which we pray is soon - he will want to thank each and every one of you. So when semester break rolls around next year, please be sure to come back to our High School and see him.

What can anyone say about a man like Richard Stack? The words spoken by Sir Thomas More in Robert Bolt's play, A Man For All Seasons, perhaps epitomize what all of us know and feel about Mr. Stack. In the play, Thomas More counsels another Richard - his ambitious, though weak young protege, Richard Rich - about the benefits of becoming a teacher and avoiding the pitfalls of 16th century court life. More tells Rich, "... Why not be a teacher? You'd be a fine teacher. Perhaps even a great one." Rich responds, "And if I was, who would know it?" More says, "You, your pupils, your friends, God. Not a bad public, that ..."

Richard Rich did not heed More's words - he went on to betray his friend and live out his life in infamy. But Richard Stack ... Ah, what a great teacher he became and what a public he has! Can anyone remember another Westwood teacher who has commanded the level of respect administrators, teachers, students, parents and friends have shown for Mr. Stack? Has anyone ever loved teaching more than he has; or dedicated himself so selflessly to his students and colleagues; or borne himself so courageously and graciously through the grief following the loss of a loved one and the perils of life-threatening illness? I don't think so! Those assembled here tonight, and those thousands of others whose lives he has touched so nobly, are proud to call Mr. Stack "my friend" ... "my colleague" ... "my teacher."

To paraphrase a line of Lincoln's, those present here tonight will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but none of us who have ever known Mr. Stack will forget what he means to us and what he has contributed to the life of Westwood High School these past 30 years. In a very real sense, we meet here on class night to celebrate a great man's achievements; thank him for his innumerable kindnesses; and part by asking one member of his "public" - God - to return him soon in good health to the place he loves best - Westwood High School.

In closing, it has been my great privilege to accept this award on behalf of Mr. Stack. Thank you again and may each and every member of the Class of 1991 enjoy peace, success and happiness in the years to come.

Mr. Richard Stack honored by Class of 1991

As students of Westwood High School, we have had the benefit of an understanding and efficient administration, a diverse selection of course offerings, and a spacious, well-equipped physical plant. These things have added to our enjoyment of school, yet it is the faculty-student relationship that has most closely influenced the quality of our high school lives.

To our recipient: The aspect of your personality for which you are, perhaps, best remembered is your boundless enthusiasm. Each day represented a new adventure as you described the golden age of Athens, mystified us with tales of Hanibal's arduous journey over the Alps, and explained the furious excitement which resulted from Schliemann's excavation of Troy. You were not content to teach us merely of events. You insisted that we learn the causes and effects of these 'moments in history', so that we would not make the same mistakes. Thus, we determined the reasons for the failure of the Sumerian city-states, and the relevance of the Code of Hamurabi on twentieth century American life. You attempted, as well, to expand our understanding of cultures other than our own by adding courses such as Chinese and Russian Civilization.

The interest which you have taken in your students' adaptation to high school life is truly admirable. You devoted hours of class time to the demonstration of proper study skills, which we soon discovered would come in handy in most of our other classes as well. You have given volumes of advice on the subject of course selections, and have even helped a few students decide how to work off their detentions. You are ever willing to stay after school to work with students who are having difficulty in your classes, and are not adverse to lending a hand with the occasional math problem or biology question.

The intense interest which you take in your students' lives outside of school is also quite gratifying. You questioned us about our weekend activities and listened with sympathy and concern to our hazing horror stories. You've attended innumerable athletic contests, and are always quick to praise participants in these events for their efforts. You've supported individual achievement as well, sponsoring hundreds of students in events such as the Walk for Hunger, and purchasing more raffle tickets than any other teacher in the high school's history.

Your genuine care and concern for our well-being has indeed touched us all deeply. Through your encouraging words and positive attitude, you have made us believe in ourselves. We truly feel privileged to have had you as an educator.

You have served as a role model for our four years here at Westwood High School. We have missed you greatly this year. We, the Class of 1991, truly appreciate all that you have done for us. Your kind ways will not be forgotten.

It is for all that you have done for us that we, the Class of 1991, with the deepest gratitude, dedicate Green Years 1991 to you, Mr. Richard J. Stack.

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

The School Committee, Dr. Robert Monson, Superintendent, and Mr. Leo Crowe, Assistant Superintendent, had a very busy year discussing, evaluating and implementing a variety of educational issues. Meetings were held on a regular basis, every other week, at the different schools throughout the system, giving parents and townspeople the opportunity to attend. There were many important committees formed as a result of School Committee action; one, in particular, the Volunteer Program, headed by Mrs. Joanne Dreher, which brought into the schools people who were willing to give their time, expertise, assistance or simply the sharing of experiences with students. Westwood High had its own representatives to the School Committee: Kristina Caulfield, who represented student issues, and Mr. Donald Beurman, who represented teacher issues.

This year also saw a change in the make-up of the School Committee. Mrs. Barbara Larkin resigned at the end of her tenure this year and Dr. Andrew Onderdonk was elected to fill her position. The town and schools were indeed fortunate with Mrs. Larkin's presence on the School Committee, where she served as an elected member for nine years. During those years she was elected to the position of Chairperson for three years (1984, 1987-88, and 1990-91). She dedicated the tenure of her terms on the board to the improvement of education through appreciative recognition of the efforts of teachers, administrators and support staff and through thoughtful and fair decision-making. Her contributions were recognized by awarding her a commemorative plaque upon her resignation.

Being the student representative to the School Committee was a great experience for me. I learned about town government, what it involves, and how things are accomplished. I also realized the great efforts made by the members of the School Committee to ensure a successful and beneficial school system. I am grateful for this experience.

TO THE CLASS OF 1991

As you complete your final year at Westwood High School, I would like to extend my congratulations and those of the staff to all of you.

Your class is distinguished by its contributions in various academic areas, by its several athletic championships and by the individual achievement of many of your members. As a school community we share your sense of accomplishment and hold great hope for your continued growth as students, citizens and human beings.

Your teachers have extended every effort to bring you greater skills and increasing knowledge, by both precept and example. It is my hope, and theirs, that you will use your education as a means of insuring happy and productive lives which are full of satisfaction to yourselves and benefit to others.

Our very best wishes to all of you.

Phillip F. Flaherty
Principal

CONGRATULATIONS - it was a great four years.

For you, Westwood High School was a productive - profitable - and wonderful experience! As an educational community, we all shared in your accomplishments - academically, athletically, musically, and in the arts. As a class you were also supportive of each other in moments of defeat or when support was so necessary.

Westwood High School has a strong line of successful students and certainly the Class of 1991 will continue the many traditions and accomplishments of its graduates.

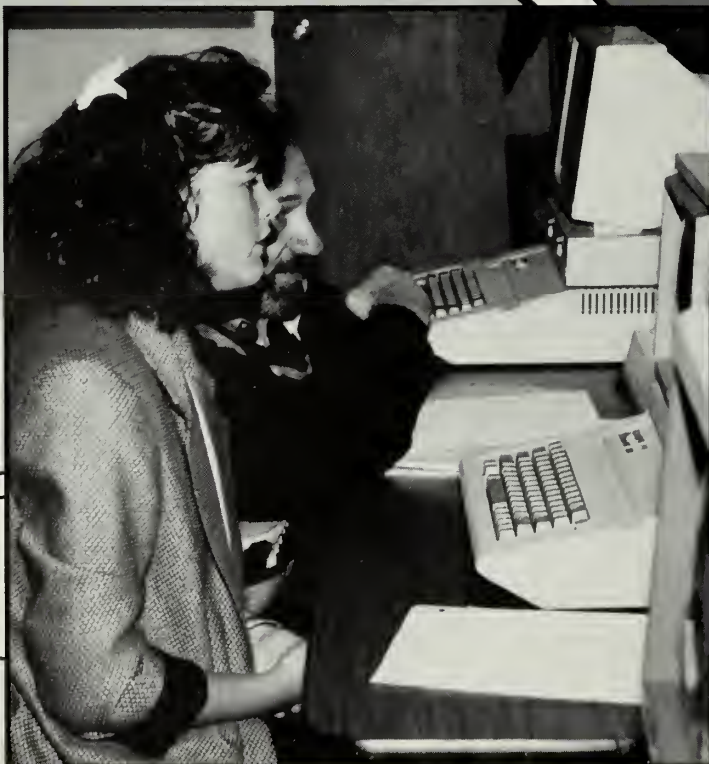

As you pursue new challenges and assume heavier responsibilities, you do so knowing that you were well prepared and your family, faculty, administrators, and friends are with you.

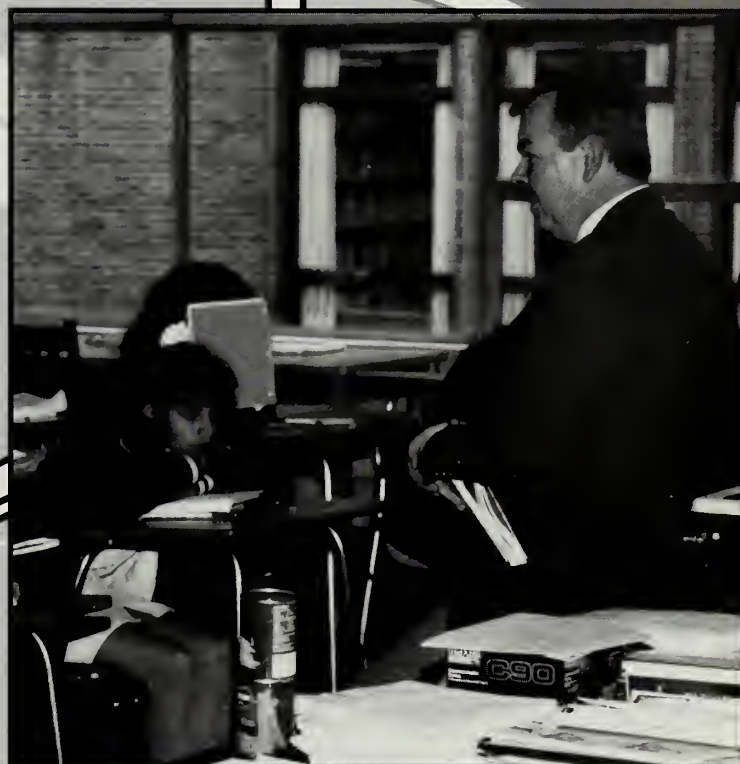

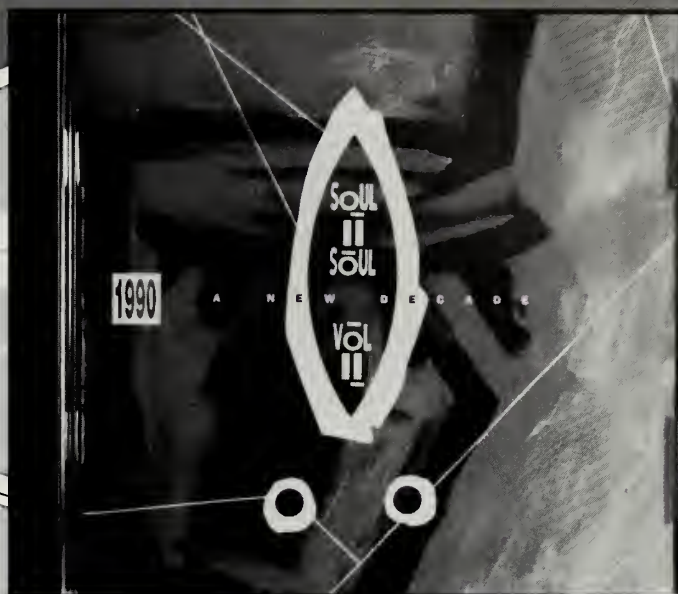

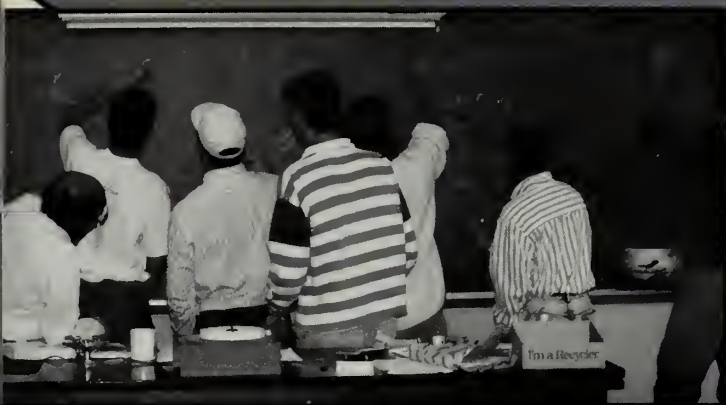

We are proud to have been a part of your high school years and to have shared so many positive experiences with your class. Although we say goodbye, it's only until you return as alumni. Best of luck - "Age Quod Agis"

The Guidance Department of Westwood High School has played an important role in the careers of the Class of 1991. Under the direction of Dr. William Pendell, the department members handle tasks such as schedule adjustments, college paperwork, and arranging for college representatives to visit Westwood High. The Class of 1991 wishes to thank the Guidance Department for their endless support and assistance. Without their help, our high school years would not have been as productive and rewarding. A special thanks to Dr. William Pendell, Director of the Guidance Department, and to Scott Goldman, METCO coordinator.

Westwood High School's English Department is one of the finest departments in the school. Throughout every student's four years of English, teachers cover a broad range of literature, such as Great Expectations, Julius Caesar, A Man for All Seasons, and the ever popular Moby Dick. The English department also offers Creative Writing, Humanities, Youth in the Twentieth Century, and Theatre Arts. Every junior must take Oral English, a class which is now an institution unto itself. Dr. Earls, the head of the department, is always available to students as both a teacher and mentor. The entire staff, the school's most popular teachers, is always available in the Seminar Room. As a result of this fine individual attention to students who seek help, many seniors score well on the Verbal SAT section and English Achievement Tests. Overall, this department more than adequately prepares students for the challenges of higher education and life.

The Westwood High Math Department consists of the finest and most accessible groups of people within the school system. Headed by Mr. James Pender, the Math Department manages to challenge students in all realms and levels of study, from Algebra One to Advanced Placement Calculus. Other classes within the department range from geometry to math analysis, introduction to computer science to introduction to calculus. In addition, students have the opportunity to seek out teachers in math seminar for independent help or extra review. Of course, Mr. Hargreaves and Mr. Fischler always keep their double classroom open and ready for students to come in with questions. Our sincere thanks to the diligent and industrious Math Department from the Class of 1991.

SCIENCE

Under the direction of Dr. John Griffin, Westwood High's Science Department instructs students in fundamental and theoretical areas of science. Students are given the opportunity to discover different techniques associated with science, and knowledge is gained through both classroom discussion and laboratory experiments. Throughout the year, students may be found making candy canes, dissecting fetal pigs, and conducting laser shows. Almost every Westwood High School Student agrees the basic subjects of biology, chemistry, and physics will impact their future studies. The Class of 1991 would like to thank the Westwood High science faculty for all their time and effort that has contributed to the general education of the students.

The Foreign Language Department has been an essential part of our education at Westwood High School. The hardworking and dedicated teachers have fine-tuned our foreign language fundamental reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills through their many exciting and demanding drills and exercises. Through the language department's Homestay programs, the teachers journeyed with us to France and Spain and showed us true international spirit. Art And Music

Westwood High School's Art Department is as popular as ever. Department Head Mr. Thomas Delsignore, Mr. Michael Milan and Mrs. Judith DesPres challenge the imaginations of students in grades 9-12. This year, Mrs. DesPres and several English teachers directed a joint art and writing project with freshmen this year. The writing and art results were superb. Also, this year's artwork appeared in No Parentheses and was on display in cases outside the Upper Media Center. Two levels of Ceramics are offered, and many students really "dig in" to this fun, yet challenging, medium. With three levels of drawing and painting, plus A.P. Art Studio, enough classes are offered to meet every interest and skill level.

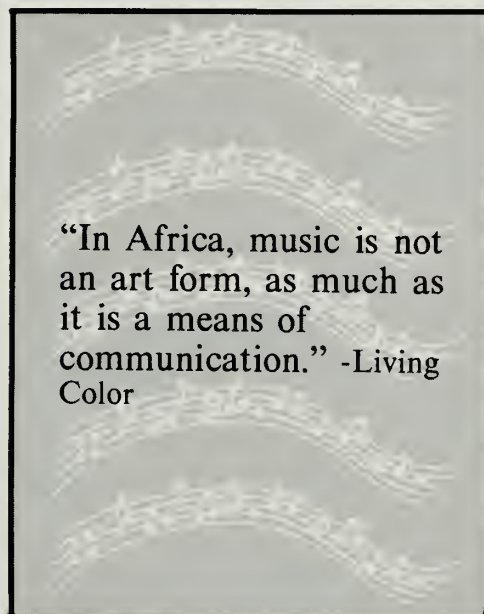

Two dedicated and hardworking teachers are solely responsible for the Music Department. Mr. James Giurleo, Department Head, and Ms. Francesca Trisorio direct the closely-knit music students throughout the year. Marching Band won many awards this year including a silver medal in the finals, and performed at many football games. Double Quartet, an honors class, performs about fifteen times during the holiday season and throughout the spring. Orchestra, Concert Band, Jazz Band, Chorus, and the Percussion Ensemble provide the school with sweet sounding classes and activities.

Media Center

Special thanks to Mrs. Virginia McCoubrey and Mr. Eugene Swezey who have made our lives more organized. Without their help and the resources of the Media Center, we never would have sorted through the many books and research materials available to us. Their hard work and dedication deserves recognizable merit. The Class of 1991 would like to express its gratitude to both!

Business & Industrial Technology

The Business and Industrial Technology Department is headed by Mr. Lawrence Rettman. In industrial technology students learn about electricity and electronics, mechanical drawing, architecture and graphic arts. Skills are extended and perfected by hands-on and practical experiences. The Business Department continues to prepare many students for college or for careers in the business world. Under the guidance and teaching of Mrs. Irene Dhosi and Mrs. Mary Furber, students are offered courses such as typing, word processing, business law and accounting. The Class of 1991 truly appreciates the enthusiasm of the members of this department.

Special

The staff of the Special Education Department at Westwood High School provides supportive services to enable students with special learning needs to understand and compensate for them. Students receive academic support either in the Learning Center, in the Alternative Program, or in the Academic Skills Program.

Students with special needs at Westwood High School are almost completely integrated into regular classes. Classes in Spanish, Algebra, U.S. History, and Human Relations are taught collaboratively by a regular education and special education teacher. With the emergence of special services at most colleges, the majority of these students go on to higher education with the same success that they experienced here at Westwood High School.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

If there is one feeling that proves to be most prominent among my classmates today, it should be pride. The Class of '91 has excelled in a diversity of areas . . . academics, athletics, music and school spirit . . . As we sit here awaiting commencement, we realize how many people have helped us to reach this point. Faculty, coaches, and parents have been vital to our success. Teachers and administrators not only guided us academically but donated their time to help with the organization and supervision of class activities such as Spring Fling and Homecoming Week. From our coaches we have learned the value of hardwork and dedication. Our parents were also there supporting and encouraging us through the good times and the bad . . . On behalf of the Class of 1991 I would like to offer them our sincere thanks; we are forever in their debt . . .

Most of all, I would like to thank my classmates. For me, these have been truly great years. I would like to close by sharing a few of my personal feelings about commencement. While graduation brings sentiments of joy and excitement, it is tinged with sadness. We celebrate our accomplishments and look forward to a new life; at the same time we regret leaving the people who have played such an important part in our lives these past four years. We have memories that will last a lifetime but there is some small part in all of us that knows that we will be somewhat diminished by the coming separation of those who have shared these "green years" of our lives. Even a treasured yearbook is not a substitute for the daily exchange of hopes and dreams with friends. So in parting I would like to leave you with some words of Richard Bach:

"Do not be dismayed at Goodbye's.

A farewell is necessary before you can meet again,
And meeting again after moments or lifetimes is certain for those who are friends."

VALEDICTORIAN'S ADDRESS

Most of us have spent much of these past four years at Westwood High, consciously or not, trying to find who we are. Inevitably, we have not reached conclusions about ourselves and our values on our own. Each of us has been swayed by our parents, our teachers, and our peers in ways that are not necessarily good or bad. Within the school itself, there have been conforming forces . . . But the school, and academic institutions in general, are somewhat more open to individual expression than most of the "real world," as they are somewhat more idealistic. The teachers and administration, in addition to giving us multiple outlets to counselling, have often supported and encouraged us in our individual efforts. The larger world, tuned to the masses, has trouble dealing with the individual and his or her needs . . . The ideas I have formed during high school, especially this year, have truly helped to free me from society's constraints. I am still far from perfection: my ideal of often failing to live up to my own standars, and I am constantly re-evaluating my principles. I feel that I am making progress, though. I know that in the next four years I will, like most of the seniors, change considerably, but I hope to remember to tolerate the values and ideals of others, because as mine are still changing, they may some day resemble theirs. And beyond that, each one has the right to believe what he wants. As the philosopher John Staurt Mill put it: "If all mankind minus one were of one opinion, and only one person were of the contrary opinion, mankind would be no more justified in silencing that one person than he, if he had the power, would be justified in silencing manking."

Brian Hardiman

REFLECTIONS

Facing the mirror capped and gowned,
Holding memories lost and found,
Looking back on years that passed,
Wanting experience and knowledge to last.

In the mirror, we see what we have gained,
We reflect on victories, joy, and pain.
Despite our struggles for our dreams we strive,
Knowing that these are the Green Years of our lives.

What kind of reflections to others are we?
Sitting row by row, what do other eyes see?
We've gained the privilege to wear green and white,
Our gifts are reflected in the mirror's light.

What lies before us we do not know,
The opportunity to try we can't forego,
We now accept the challenge of the future we selected;
Attributes gained from others in our lives are reflected.

Westwood High School Holds First Graduation Exercises

Class of 1941, School Committee, Faculty and Guests:

The Class of 1941 wants to thank you for the invitation to participate in the fiftieth anniversary of Westwood High School and your graduation.

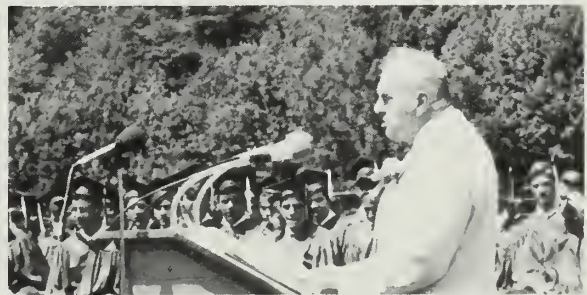

No doubt there have been some changes from what we did as pioneers and probably some of those activities are still a part of the tradition here. Some things haven't changed and my knees are just as shaky as they were in 1941. These are some of the things we did that first year, other than what are on display at the Westwood high school and the public library . . .

Previous to 1940, Westwood's eighth grade pupils had a choice between Dedham High School and Norwood High. Most chose Dedham even though we were considered "country people," "hill people" or "hicks". We did have many friends there and most of us were disappointed when we were told our Senior year would not be at Dedham. Later on we realized that it was a good decision . . .

Besides football, the sports program supported girls' and boys' basketball, girls' softball and boys' baseball teams. I don't remember their records . . . To keep us informed about school activities the "Nahatan News" was published and a supplement became our "yearbook."

Westwood in 1941 was no longer a sleepy country town but was becoming a dynamic suburban community. It was an exciting time for us and it holds many happy memories. From the Class of 1941 to the Class of 1991, we wish you great success in the years ahead. Wherever you travel and settle, please carry with you the many fond memories you have of Westwood and your Westwood High School years.

RECORDING THE JUNIORS . . .

Green Years reporter:

What is unique about WHS?

Chris Burgess: The courtyards.

Rick Johnston: Student body.

Julie Lowe: Everything and nothing . . .

If you could change one thing about WHS, what would it be?

Chris Burgess: Carpeting.

Erin O'Brien: There would be an open campus.

Mike Cafarella: The electrical outlets!

Describe a typical junior in four words:

Chris Burgess: Kinda short, kinda tall.

David Hurvitz: Irritable, complicated, immature, boring.

Erin O'Brien: Where's the party?

Rick Johnston: Deaf, dumb, blind & mute.

Julie Lowe: Senior-want-to-be.

Mike Cafarella: Brown hair, average build.

What advice would you give to the incoming juniors?

Chris Burgess: Smile.

David Hurvitz: Work very hard. Anyone can get good grades.

Erin O'Brien: Have fun on your SAT'S!

Rick Johnston: Heads up!!

Julie Lowe: Work hard. This year counts the most.

Michael Cafarella: Shave daily.

A. J. Beaulieu: Expect the worst.

What are you looking forward to in your senior year?

Chris Burgess: Power

Erin O'Brien: Watching the lost freshmen find their way around the school.
Rick Johnston: Hockey season, Powder Puff.

Julie Lowe: Getting out of school in May.

Mike Cafarella: Seniority.

If the school was burning down and you could save one thing, what would it be?

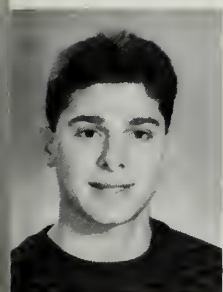

Chris Burgess: An Apple IIe.

David Hurvitz: Mr. Brown's history notes.

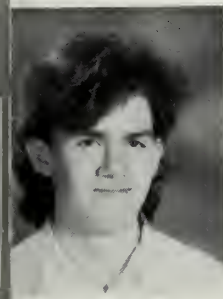

Julie Lowe: My turkey and pickle sandwich.

Mike Cafarella: The 1963 Green Years.
A. J. Beaulieu, Erin O'Brien & Rick Johnston: Myself!

RECORDING THE SOPHOMORES . . .

Green Years Reporter:

If you never heard the word sophomore, what would you think it was?

Amy Beneway: I'd think it was some brand name for pillows.

Laura Iskenderian: Idiot, moron.

Lisa Troiano: The son of Sophocles.

Mark Onderdonk: A fungus.

Amy Mazzola: A big person at the high school.

Jay Resha: "Soph"isticated?

Kerry Larkin: Some type of reptile, perhaps a specific stage in a frog's (as a tadpole) life.

Anonymous: A word for more soda.

Tim Lewis: A good-looking girl. "Man, she's sophomore!"

Mark Connelly: 6'7", 650 lb. kid.

Theresa Conley: Something that's soft!?!

Ed Galvin: A plant-eating exotic animal.

Jen Fox: A contagious disease.

Aisha Owens: Some sort of ice cream.

Describe a typical sophomore:

Amy Beneway: Just happy not to be a freshman or a junior because that's a hard year.

Laura Iskenderian: Interested in the opposite sex, wants to do well in school but not a fanatic about grades, daring but not crazy, tall, thin, friendly, usually kind. Anything else?

Lisa Troiano: Loud, intelligent, sarcastic.

Mark Onderdonk: Asleep.

Amy Mazzola: Someone who thinks he owns the world.

Matt Pellegrini: An easy-going person with no homework.

Jay Resha: Dave Abdou because he's on the cover of the Student Handbook.

Kerry Larkin: A typical sophomore? There really is none. The sophomore class is a conglomerate of different, unique people.

Anonymous: A person with a bigger ego than a freshman and a smaller one than a junior.

Tim Lewis: Someone who thinks they are totally cool but when reality hits, you're only a 16 year-old 10th grader!

Mark Connelly: One step above a frosh.

Theresa Conley: Tired bored, looking for fun.

Ed Galvin: Intelligent, athletic, good sense of humor.

Kevin Foster: There's no such thing as a "typical" sophomore.

Aisha Owen: Think they know it all.

At Westwood High if you were to go straight, then left, then right, then down the stairs, then left, where would you end up?

Amy Beneway: LOST!:

Laura Iskenderian: Custodian's room.

Lisa Troiano: The cafeteria.

Mark Paster: Boiler room.

Jay Resha: Somewhere downstairs!

Tim Lewis: You'd be just outside of Norwood.

Mark Connelly: That's the direction you send a freshman on the first day of school — to the boiler room.

Kevin Foster: Under the office in the wing that isn't used.

A FRESHMAN RECORD YEAR

Each year is an eternity that we as students must deal with, and now that this year is over, we can look back on some of the things that happened to all of us during the course of the year . . . Being president was a cinch, probably because we didn't really get a good chance to turn the school upside down. But we did get to plan some pretty cool stuff like a dance and a beach trip. It seemed that anything we did required hard work and trial and error . . . One of the brightest spots this past year was to actually witness the semi-disappearance of cliques in our grade. A couple of years back, we wouldn't have gathered 40 or 50 kids at a lunch table, but I saw that all too often this year. I think we became better friends, more mature and, more importantly, an awesome class. Maybe I'm a little soft, but thanks for a great year . . .

A RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENTS

"Last year I came across an incredible pen and ink drawing of a dog snarling. The image was fixed in my mind so this year when I took ceramics I thought I might try to reproduce it as a mask. As a beginner I thought it might be too difficult, but I began. As my project started looking more and more like my vision, I got even more inspired and tried harder. Then when I found out that my sculpture was going to the scholastic competition I thought maybe it wasn't good enough. Well, as it turned out, I received a blue ribbon which is the top award, and my dog is in New York where it is being exhibited with other winners from across the United States. So the moral of the story is:

You never know what you can do until you try it."

BOYS' SOCCER NARROWLY MISSED the TOURNEY

Starting out with a grueling week of double sessions, the Soccer Team begin its year. Officially the year began with a scoreless game at Martha's Vineyard, a game that set the tone for the season. For it was after that game that the Wolverines realized winning would not come easily. The team did did manage to pull off five wins and six ties out of 18 games. That record gave Westwood 16 points, 6 points shy of the tournament. But not making it to the tournament didn't dampen the Soccer Team's season. For as one of our refs said, "You guys may not be all that talented, but you sure are fun." And that's what we did, we had fun. Memories: Not so "fun runs,"

Martha's Vineyard game, geek circle, glory days, decorating Lano's car, quotes like "I have an attitude?", "Coach, it wasn't me," and "When I was in high school . . .", finesse boys, "Did you just punch him, Jay?", "Nice face, Ben," Seymour.

Bequeath next year: A season with zero ties.

GIRLS' SOCCER

"Kickstart My Heart"

Although this year's effort can't exactly be labeled a winning season, it certainly wasn't boring! Who can forget the grueling double-session workouts or the newly-introduced back runs? The short-long-short will surely remain forever etched in our memories! Several freshmen survived the last two weeks in August and were a welcome addition to the varsity squad, earning their keep on and off the field. As the season progressed, the team seemed to grow closer. Even a less than desirable record couldn't keep the team's spirit down for long. How could we help but be cheered up by Michelle's crazy bus-ride entertainment and the soothing strains of "Guns 'N Roses"? All in all, we had fun and will take with us the many memories of the 1990 season!

Memories: "Girls, you've got to get the ball in the net!", "New Ball!", "Hi, Nublet!", K-Mooney, O'Lar, Sherri-Lynn, Lesbo, Laeu (Still a captain to us), Okinawa, Suffa, Cal, Keliynee, Kris, Seka. "Hoochiecoo," "All you can eat?", "Funny spin," "Hey Ladies", Game Day. Thanks for everything Coach Niles!!! "We love you, Nub. Oh, yes we do."

CROSS-COUNTRY

Placed 3rd in the TVL

We had little idea of how our team would do this year. Our first meet against Ashland set up a winning streak for Westwood for the next two meets against Medfield and Hopkinton. Our first loss was to Dover-Sherborn, but we took up the slack by defeating Bellingham. With the loss of our top runner, the team lost to Whitinsville Christian and to the track power of Holliston. Westwood placed third overall in the Tri-Valley League dual meet and fifth overall in the TVL League meets. The team also participated in the Catholic Memorial Invitational and the State meets, all held at Franklin Park.

Memories: The place, the Wolverines track battle cry, Ernie, tangents, Captain Track 13 quarters, "Raindrops keep Falling on my Head," oral hygiene, the Harem . . .

Creative awards: TVL Meet Rabbit of the Year -Evan Owens; Sean Carey Look-Alike-

Jeff Lawton; Most Disciplined- Mike Cafarella; Best Oral Hygiene- Westwood Cross-Country Team

We would like to bequeath to next year's team the oral hygiene toothbrush, a good set of lungs to Sean Libby, and long-er shorts (green paisley) . . .

The typical bus ride to an away game meet was exemplified by our meet against Holliston. As usual, we each got a seat to ourselves and the bus headed out on Route 109.

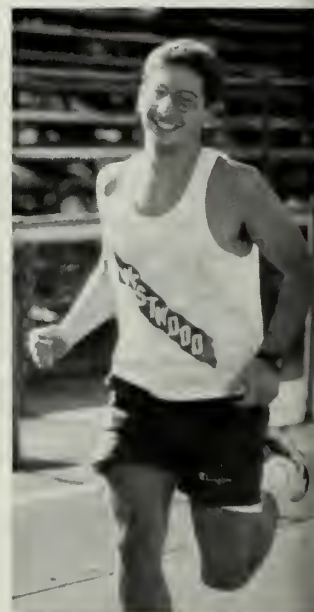

Bored, we entertained ourselves by playing telephone and singing songs like "Row Your Boat" in a great round. As we rounded a corner in Holliston Center, the whole team rushed to the right side of the bus to pay homage to The Place, a grand and awesome store. After singing the Cross-Country Battle Hymn, we were psyched and ready, even if our ignominious defeat was ominously imminent.

FIELD HOCKEY

We had a really fun season and, although we didn't win a lot we tied some of the best teams in the league.

Our team had a lot of fun and we laughed a lot (mostly at our coach). Thanks to all the JV. players who faithfully cheered at our games, and we wish both of next year's teams the best of luck.

Memories: "You guys!" ... "VAHHRSITEEE" ...

VOLLEYBALL

"Up Where We Belong"

This year's volleyball team, led by Co-captains Tish Murphy and Sue McLaughlin, finished the TVL with a 10-4 record. Once again our loss was to the state champions, Medway. Highlights of the season include tough scrimmages against Milford and North Quincy, and the never-ending bus rides (which we didn't have directions for anyway). Overall, the season went well under the guidance of our coaches Chuck, Darlene, and Lisa.

FOOTBALL CHEERLEADERS

"Twist And Shout"

The Medway game proved to be the cheerleaders that Westwood football players were not just typical "jocks." With great warmth and sympathy the team presented the game ball to the Grueter family. This moment revealed the true spirit and kindness that cheerleaders look forward to when cheering.

Memories: 20 million jumping jacks, "you guys are doing laps on Monday," . . . "I was at the bank," . . . "why don't we let Fink do that . . .," The peanut gallery, Chicken legs, seniors get priority, granjy nylon lines, Friday moods . . . "If not everyone has their spandex, no one wears them- remember it's supposed to be 30 degrees today."

We would like to bequeath to next year's team a separate bus just for the pom-poms!!!

BEAT HOPKINTON

FOOTBALL

First in TVL

Nine wins . . . one loss . . . We were expected to have a losing record, but we were determined to go all the way . . . the dream. Every game was taken one at a time. Even though we had our troubles during the year we still had an excellent season. We ended with five TVL All-Stars.

Memories: Captain's practice. Double sessions in rocket high temperatures . . . Stats? Come on miner!! Santa Claus stay . . . Pregame speeches. Pig piles. Right arm shiver!!! RRRRRRR-What A Rush!!! Think! Where's Duffy! Ma Son . . . Yo! Tiny. Mystery Five at football camp.

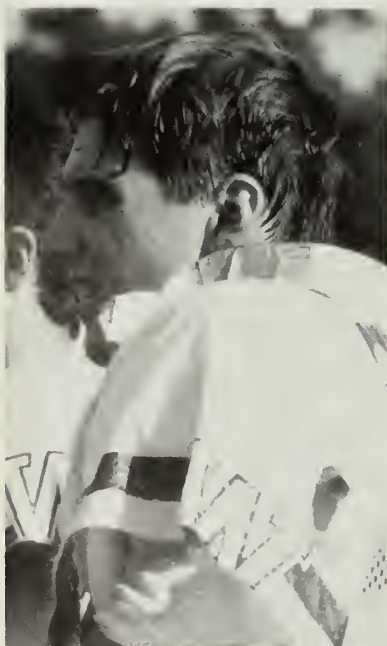

What it was like to be against Holliston? Playing Holliston is awesome. The game always means something every year. Either the Super Bowl or the Tri-Valley League Title.

Holliston-Westwood Thanksgiving Game: This year the Thanksgiving game was played for a Westwood High Super Bowl appearance, but for Holliston just a piece of the Tri-Valley League Championship. This game was one of the biggest rivalries in the state. Even though we lost the game we got a piece of the TVL championship.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

"Under the Sea"

The Girls' Swim Team finished off one of its strongest seasons in years. The final record was 10 and 2, with a third place finish in the South Sectional swim meet. Wendy Rowe dominated the water, holding eight individual records. Donna Guglielmi, Jen Connors, Jen Barsamian, and Courtney Patterson were all dominating forces. The many new underclassmen provided depth as well as strength to the team. Divers Lynn and Jill Santopietro, as well as Sara Larson, brought home the needed winning points to many meets. Captain Kelly Clark and the four other senior girls, Rita Guarino, Avida Setayesh, Carolyn Flaherty and Heather Bartold worked as strong leaders for the 1990 team. The credit for the winning season is not only attributed to the hard work of the girls, but also to the dedicated coaching of Bill and Maryellen Riley. Good luck next year!!

BOYS' SWIMMING

A winner is an individual who gains an appreciable benefit from an athletic contest, and not necessarily the individual who finishes first. We all made individual strides toward excellence despite hardships in numbers, experience and talent. We had character building meets and one meet for celebration.

Memories: Cake Fest '91, scenic tour of Fall River, Dan's upward; "turtle", North Reading, "Hey, look guys! We won!" banana hammocks.

Most likely to freeze in any situation: Mark Onderdonk.

We were not an athletic team; we were however a tightly knit family residing in very cold water. Shower chants and bus ride serenades were our dinner tables and the off-season was our bed. Our father figure, Coach Loneragan, molded us all into our potential with discipline, encouragement and guidance. "Our nag," Heather, did her job as manager.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

"Stayin' Alive"

The Westwood Girls' Basketball Team, led by Tri-captains Cheryl Suffredini, Tish Murphy, and Sue McLaughlin, once again finished an undefeated season. The streak lives on! After being named TVL champs, the Wolverines proceeded to the tournament. They blew through their first game against Cardinal Spellman, coached by former Westwood coach Tom Hughes, with ease. Next they met Oliver Ames. Emotions were high because OA knocked Westwood out of the tourney in 1990. Nevertheless, the Wolverines pulled out another win. On March 3, 1991, the girls and the town of Westwood suffered an extreme loss. Mrs. Christine O'Brien, mother of Erin and Amy, passed away. Mrs. O'Brien was not only the girls' best fan, but she was also a friend and mother to all of them. After a long and emotionally draining week, the girls met Apponequet in the South Sectional Semi-finals. The girls came out on fire channeling all of their emotions into the game. They stomped Apponequet and dedicated the game to the lady whom they'll miss forever, Mrs. O'Brien. Next, Westwood had to face number one seed North Attleboro. At this point the girls were running on empty and could not muster enough energy for a win. Although there was no state title won, one thing is certain, Coach Riley did his job. Coach Riley took on an awesome task. He came into the program, upheld the streak and guided his team to the South Sectional finals. The girls were lucky to have him as coach and friend and he will never be forgotten. Thank you, Coach Riley.

BOYS' BASKETBALL Compiled a 10-8 Record

Summary of Season: The Wolverines began the season with an impressive 4-0 start. The losses began to pile up against Division 3 powers Dover, Medway, and Bellingham. Thanks to the confidence and intensity displayed by first year coach Mike Williamson, the team was able to keep pushing towards a tournament berth. A late season victory over Bellingham under Assistant Coach Downes and a near victory against Harwich solidified the team as tournament caliber. Unfortunately, the Wolverines missed the state tournament by one game, finishing 10-8.

Memories: "No more Water!" . . . Coach's trips down memory land . . . Joe's speeches . . . The infamous notes on Gearon's window.

What would you bequeath to next years team? A long term coach!

Most memorable meet/e-vent: the second meeting against Bellingham, this time at home, resulted in an impressive 15 point victory. Mr.

Downes led the team in the absence of suspended Coach Williamson. The team finally played to its potential and displayed to all what could have been. Honors: Larry Patterson was named to the Tri-Valley League All-Star Team.

SKI TEAM

"Slip Sliding Away"

This past season the Girls' Ski Team, led by Capt. Cara Donlon, had a very successful season. The team finished second in the Mass Bay Ski League small school division. Cara Donlon finished 2nd overall in the league; Jean Ladouceur finished eighth overall; and Angela Hughes finished in the top thirty. The rest of the team consisted of Mary Beth Gadd, Meaghan Gadd, Kate Mason, Kate Sinott, Lindsay Tisdale, Tina Depew, and Rebecca Tremble. The team qualified for the state tournament this year, also. The Boys' Team, however, didn't do quite as well. The team finished fifth overall in the small school division as it was troubled by injuries the entire season.

Peter Hughes, captain, finished with thirty-five points for the season. Even with injuries Matt Hatch, Mike Churwin, Todd Rhinerson, and Chris Zingg carried the team. The rest of the team was made up of underclassmen.

Memories: One of the most memorable events was a little snow fight the team had with a different school. During this event we won handily because of the team work we had developed over the years.

HOCKEY First Place in the TVL

The Westwood Hockey Team enjoyed a very successful regular season ending at 17 and 3. The new coach, Leo Shanahan, stepped in and carried on the tradition as Westwood captured its 8th consecutive Tri-Valley League title. The only setbacks came with Division 2 tournament-bound Hanover and Randolph, along with a heartbreaker to Dover-Sherborn at the end of the regular season. The loss to Dover-Sherborn lit the fire to spark the team and the seniors to capitalize on their last bid for the State Championship!

1991 DIVISION III STATE CHAMPS!

BASEBALL

South Sectional Champs

The Wolverines began the season by dropping two games to Canton, but soon they were fighting for the League title with Holliston and Ashland. The exciting regular season came down to the team needing to win four of their last six games. In truly clutch fashion, the WOLVERINES strolled into the tournament with a record of 13-7. In the second to last game, the team romped Ashland by a score of 9-0. This was the first time any of the teams players had beaten Ashland in baseball. The game gave the team momentum going into the tournament and despite getting only a number 13 seed, the Wolverines soon became the South Sectional champs. This truly Cinderella story included wins over Hanover, Archbishops Williams, Case, and, best of all, Holliston and Red Sox draftee Doug Carrol. The team would like to thank Coach Farrell, Coach O'Leary, and Coach Downes for their support throughout the year, not to mention the heroics of Aardvark, our team MVP.

Memories: The Armadillo, the Anteater, and, of course, the Aardvark . . . "It's a great day for baseball today . . ." "Gentlemen, your opponent today was not Dover-Sherborn, it was dehydration . . ." "Coach said I'm in relief today . . ." "Kurt, you ready to go another nine today?" . . . Torn Rotor Cuff . . . Hey, Dr. Gearon, when are you getting that new lounge you promised us?

SOFTBALL

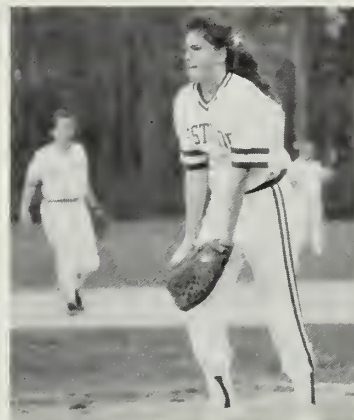

"Hangin' Tough"

Four unbelievable wins under the leadership of captains Meg, Michelle, and Vanessa undoubtedly constitutes a successful season for the Westwood softball team. (The few games lost by slaughter aren't even worth mentioning!) As in all sports the team had its ups, down, most memorable moments, and those we'd rather forget. For example, the game against Millis is probably etched in the players', coaches', and fans' minds for a long time. Lisa's valiant effort to slither and squirm around the catcher combined with Vanessa's impressive, although accidental, slide into first made for a very interesting inning. Unfortunately, both were unsuccessful in their efforts to beat the throw. Overall, the season was a decent one, and everyone managed to have a good time. Good luck to next year's team.

Here's to a successful season; in other words, try to win five games!!

Memories: "Hilly", the Howland family "taking ones" for the team, Vanessa's outstanding slides, the outfield tanning and grazing in the pasture, Amy's great third base coaching, Michelle and her glove oil, the many strenuous practices, ending games by the fifth inning so attending the baseball games was possible.

BOYS' TRACK EARNED 2ND PLACE IN THE TVL

The Boys' Track Team suffered a disappointing loss against the defending league champion team of Medfield. However, the team was able to rebound from this loss to win the next four meets. At the close of the season, the team had achieved a 5-2 record, giving them second place in the Tri-Valley League.

This year's strength came from its depth, with both veteran seniors and underclassmen rookies all contributing to the success of the 1991 season.

Memories: The 4x100 relay team's overcoming initial problems to win the Class D State Meet. The Girls' Team revolting against Coach Relleva. The 1991 team would like to wish the 1992 Spring Track the best of luck in capturing the elusive

T.V.L. title. The most memorable meet was against Dover Sherborn which the team won in the last event, the 4x400 relay. The MVP award goes to Matt Prout and the Coaches Award to John Lane.

GIRLS' TRACK

"Gonna Make You Sweat"

Although the Girls' Track team never threatened to capture the TVL title, the lady Wolverines enjoyed two convincing victories and many state-qualifying performances over the course of the season. In fact, many exciting meets were extremely close and came down to the final events. The combination of a positive attitude and undying team spirit led to a successful and fun spring season. Time and time again, athletes willingly entered events that were new to them for the good of the team. Even though the girls weren't intimidating in terms of numbers, the unselfishness and outstanding effort made up for the team's lack of depth. The season concluded on a positive note with several Wolverines competing in the state meet. Best wishes to next year's team. Here's to a season full of victory and free of shin splints!

Memories: Theresa as the lone hurdler, Sue's marathon track meets, Tina's encouragement, Kristen's and Cal's nerves, the freshman four: Betsy, Erika, Carolyn, and Becky, "Do we have to run the final relay?", "Where's Coach Relleva?", the Ashland BBQ, bus rides, Coach Lane and the sand pit (keep your eyes on the fire hydrant!), "Why is Millis here?"

BOYS' TENNIS Gained a Tourney Berth

The Boys' Tennis team proved to be successful this year, both as a whole and as individual players. Their competitive spirit and driving motivation helped them to create a strong foundation for the future line-up. Although the game of tennis is mainly an individual sport, the boys constantly stuck by and encouraged each other through the toughest of trials and tribulations, including being mashed nearly to death on a crowded bus full of girls' softball and boys' baseball players.

Chris Walter, who played first singles, was named MVP and awarded the All-Star in singles. Mark Sullivan and Jim Caruso (The Donuts Connection), who played second doubles, were named the Unsung Heroes of the team. Many thanks to Coach Dan Damish for his efforts, and for being an excellent coach, great guy, and true friend to the team. Also thanks to Captains Chris Walter, Chris Blomquist, and Mike Dowd. GREEN YEARS

Music plays an important role in all of our lives. It is because of this that the Green Years staff selected a music theme for the 1991 yearbook. This way, in the years to come, we, the Class of 1991, will not only remember our four years at Westwood High School, but also the musical trends that were popular during our years here.

Work on Green Years 1991 began at "Yearbook University" in Rhode Island as the two co-editors struggled to come up with possible themes for the book. After a number of after school meetings in the fall, the staff came up with the music theme. We quickly began work on the candid section of the book struggling to meet the first deadline. Once this section was completed we tackled the faculty section. Little by little, the book came together.

The entire yearbook staff deserves credit for the production of Green Years 1991. Without the contributions of each staff member, the book would not have been successful. Green Years 1991 is indeed the product of much hard work and effort put forth by each and every staff member. Those afternoons of drawing layouts, redoing layouts, selecting and cropping pictures, and typing copy have paid off. We hope everyone is pleased with the results.

The Green Years staff would like to thank Mrs. Fran Petrakos, our advisor, for all her endless support, help and encouragement. Without her, Green Years 1991 would not have been completed on schedule. "Thanks, Mrs. Petrakos, for all that you have done to make Green Years 1991 a success!" And we must not forget to thank Mr. Charles Flahive who was always ready and willing to take pictures wherever we needed coverage. Without him some of the events would not have been covered.

Memories: Yearbook camp, we can work around the deadlines . . . Who was supposed to do the copy for this page? I can't be at the meeting today, I have practice . . . What is our theme??? Where are the front office and guidance pages???

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year was one of the Student Council's most successful ever. Under the leadership of President Maya Khuri, Vice-President Megan Driscoll, Secretary Brian Cox, and Treasurer John McDermott, the Council continued to provide the student body with social events and education about social causes.

The year began with a Homecoming Week filled with theme days like Pajama Day, Look Stupid Day, and the traditional Green Pride Day. Along with Homecoming Queen Cheryl Suffredini, Brian Hardiman became the new Mr. WHS. In March, Spring Fling came again with the annual volleyball tournament and color war. Almost everyone participated in making it even more successful than last year's. In terms of social-conscious efforts, Student Council put on a "Concert for a Cause" with all proceeds benefiting child abuse prevention. Then first-ever AIDS Awareness Assembly was put on and received praise from students and faculty alike. Finally, the recycling program continued to grow as Student Council members showed middle school students how recycle paper at their level. All in all, Student Council once again had a successful year and would like to thank the Westwood High School student body for making it possible. Good luck to next year's Student Council. Special thanks Mr. Wayne Chatterton and Mrs. Gail Hayes for their support and guidance, and to each and every member who worked hard all year long.

STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD

The Student Advisory Board is an elected body whose goals include working towards school improvement and reviewing and reinforcing school policy. During the year the Board was involved in several community projects. For example, we continued our connection with the Italian Home for Children by sponsoring a Valentine's Day Party and volunteering in their fundraising projects. The Board also ran a "Hats and Mittens" drive during the Christmas season for the St. Francis

House for the Homeless. The drive was extremely successful and hundreds of hats and mittens were collected. By donating to the American Cancer Fund, we received "hundreds" of daffodils. Small bunches of daffodils, tied with a yellow ribbon and with the message of "We're glad you're here" were then distributed to all faculty and staff members. The project, initiated by Lindsay Tisdale, was responsible for a warm, enthusiastic, and colorful atmosphere for the first day of spring. Other school projects included reviewing the Student Handbook, reevaluating the swimming requirement, and sponsoring an "Egg Hunt" during Spring Fling Week.

The Board appreciates the strong support it received from students, staff, and the administrations. A special "thank you" to Mr. Charles Flahive and Mrs. Frances Petrakos, our advisors, for their assistance during the year.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club, an organization with participation coming from all four grades, achieved much during the 1990-91 year, with student members offering their services in many areas.

Students who volunteered at the Ellis Nursing Home had certain residents whom they saw each week, enjoying and helping them in various activities, such as Bingo or Spelling Bees. If a Key Club member chose to work at the Glad Rags Shop, her responsibilities entailed waiting on customers, organizing racks of clothing, jewelry, or manning the register. Glad Rags proceeds go to a preventative child-abuse and neglect program. One student chose to volunteer her time as a Spanish tutor to a kindergarten class at the Hanlon School. Another student used her free block helping Dr. Gearon by typing sports permits, schedules, expenses, and keeping the computers humming. A cooking class offered one an opportunity to work with the special needs students. In this class, cooking was not as important as listening to the students. The Circle of Friends was a group of students who got together with the special needs students and simply spent time with them, either talking with them, watching movies, or playing kick ball.

The officers Pres. Sue McLaughlin, Vice-Pres. Cyndi Locke, Sec. Michell Grueter, and their advisor, Mrs. Ann Mateson, are grateful to all the members of the Key Club for their involvement, and wish to thank all those who were willing to give their time and energy to make the Key Club a continued success.

PEER EDUCATORS

Westwood High School's Peer Educator group, supervised by Mrs. Linda Hanlon, is made up of sophomores, juniors and seniors who have expressed an interest in instructing younger students in the system. After undergoing training themselves, these students create, implement and present lessons to the seventh grade class on a variety of topics of relevance and interest to students. The following seniors are recognized for their work as Peer Educators: Mary Beth Gadd, Suzanne McLaughlin, Robin Morrison, and Alicia Mullen.

SADD

The purpose of SADD is to make students aware of the dangers of drinking and driving. We reached our goal through the use of speakers, films, and discussion. Some of the highlights of the year were Office Paul Toland's presentation, speakers who came specifically to speak to the freshmen and a presentation given by prisoners. Some of the activities that helped us raise money were the student vs. faculty basket ball game and pictures with Santa. Our biggest project this year was the "red ribbon" campaign. WHS students distributed red ribbons to students and town members, and by tying a ribbon onto one's car, the individual made his pledge against drinking and driving. This pledge stated, furthermore, that no one would drive while under the influence in that car.

This was a very successful year for the entire organization because we achieved our goals and perhaps even saved lives. Special thanks go to Mrs. Linda Hanlon and Mr. Charles Flahive for all their contributions and time which made this group the success it was.

SAFE RIDES

Safe Rides, an organization founded because of the increasing number of drinkers and drivers, and dedicated to safety and sanity of the roads, had its fourth successful year. Led by Co-Presidents Heather Bartold and Jamie Maus, Safe Rides provided a safe alternative to drunk driving. The group also worked with Students Against Drunk Driving in the Red Ribbon campaign promoting "Tying One On for Safety." Operating on Friday and Saturday nights, four members would gather at one of their houses and through the answering service heard from students who needed rides home. Safe Rides doubled in size to over sixty members this year. Thank you to all the dedicated members, but especially to Mr. Charles Flahive for his guidance throughout the year.

STUDENT ANNOUNCERS

"Good Morning, there is a mandatory meeting . . ." The morning announcers provided useful (although sometimes ignored) information about activities throughout the day and later on in the week. Friday mornings always seemed too good to be true with Sharon on the mike! The announcers were John Lane & Maya Khuri (M, W); Tee Earls & Amy McDonnell (T, Th); Jeff Lawton & Sharon Becker (F) Special thanks to our advisor, Mrs. Kelsch. "Thank you that is all; all students on the call list please report to the office . . ."

SCHOOL STORE . . . The New Regime

The School Store is back! An innovative merchandising team, headed by Jerry Neville with fellow entrepreneurs, Jeff Lawton, Randy Miller, and Chris Colhard, has provided students with soda and snacks to quench their thirst and tame their hunger. Through their enterprising efforts the store has become more profitable than in previous years with an expanded product line and service with a smile. The sale of soda and popular items ranging from Mike & Ikes and Reeses Cups to Cracker Jacks and Sunflower Seeds pushed 1991 profits above $3000. The store was open for many school activities in addition to its everyday after school business hours providing a stimulating oasis in an otherwise hostile world. Memories will live on: "Keys down the drain, Bonds of Love, Cans of Fury, Don't eat the Black Chuckle!, Rommel's Afrika Korps, S.A.T.- Store Assault Team, 'clear!', Gummi Hall of Fame, Irma and Abel—the Garcia Twins, Dead Diet Dew, W.O.M.E.N., and Captain Candy!" The Class of 1991 store staff would like to thank Mrs. Rosengarten for her support and encouragement and wish Co-Managers Matt Prout, Lori McKenna and their staff the best of luck in 1992. Stay out of the Red Zone and maintain the Tradition! "PEPSI!"

DRAMA CLUB

Once again, Westwood High's Drama Club thrived under the enthusiastic leadership of Mrs. Stephanie Kelsch, famed English and Oral English teacher. The Club was led by a board of triumvirate consisting of Heather Bartold, Carolyn Flaherty and Dineen Wilson. After performing a successful and well attended After Dinner Theatre in November, the Club conceived and executed the novel idea of taping an entertaining MTV-style videotape for the troops stationed in the Persian Gulf. This tape was copied and mailed to a few different military bases, and the Club received some thank-you notes from soldiers who enjoyed the tape. For the spring production, the Club tackled Shakespeare in the form of two short one-act plays. Many eager underclassmates were recruited for this production, and will serve as the future of Westwood High's Drama Club.

MARCHING BAND

The Marching Band completed yet another successful season. Under the guidance of Mr. James Guirleo, George, Bill, Mike, and Rich we excelled in our performances. This year was marked with new members and a new staff, both of which contributed largely to our success. The season came to a close at the annual banquet with a baby picture show, speeches, the reading of the will, and awards. The awards given were as follows:

Rookie of the Year: Eileen Neville

Cara Nasisi

Most Improved: Pam Griffin

Most Valuable: Randy Miller

Sue Barrington

Veteran of the Year: Lisa Randlett

Color Guard:

Rookie of the Year: Emily Moore

Best Marcher: Erin Chipley

Most Valuable: Stacey Hamwey

A heartfelt thanks goes to this year's officers:

President- Randy Miller,

Vice President- Jerry Neville,

Treasurer- Karen Hu,

Secretary- Sue Barrington,

Drum Majors- Lisa Randlett and Alicia

MUSICAL GROUPS

Double Quartet

The Westwood High School Music Department continued its long-standing tradition of excellence this year through our many different groups; such as the Double Quartet, Chorale, Jazz band, Concert Band, Orchestra, and Percussion Ensemble. Despite our dwindling numbers, we managed to sing, toot, and bang our way through a series of concerts, and Arts Festival, and many other performances for both parents and students alike. We hope that our music has been enjoyed by all! Special thanks to Mr. James Guirleo, Miss Fran Trisorio, and Mr. Tim McGee for their unending flow of patience and dedication.

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

Celebration of the Arts

For the second year in a row, the Annual Arts Festival acknowledged the arts in Westwood High School and provided students a forum in which to present their knowledge and creativity. This celebration began on April 1 with performances by the Jazz Band and Electronic Music class. The next night, Double Quartet performed solos, all taken from Broadway musicals. The Orchestra and much-lauded Percussion Ensemble presented their work the next night. Westwood High's Drama Club performed "Shakespeare Soup" on Thursday night. Friday night, piano soloists Chris Walter and Debbie Ringel stroked the ivories, Randall Miller sang, and Heather Bartold played the cello. After the intermission, the Westwood Combined Church Choirs performed Vivaldi's "Gloria" under the direction of Mrs. Carol Abel. Dance was also presented to audiences on April 8, with students from WHS performing solos. The Festival continued with a showing of Kenneth Brannagh's film, Henry V. The Festival concluded on April 10 with a symposium on Arts in the Small Community. All of the musical, dance and drama presentations made at night were also presented to WHS students during school hours. During the celebration, the gallery was filled with artwork created by WHS students. This celebration provided students and audiences a wonderful opportunity to share the bountiful talent and enthusiasm of students in Westwood. A tremendous round of applause goes to Mr. James Giurleo and Miss Fran Trisorio for coordinating the festival.

WINTER GUARD - "LEGACY"

This is the first year Westwood High School has competed in Winter Guard Competition. Winter Guard is a combination of dance, flag twirling and marching. Wishing to leave a remembrance, the girls chose to name the team "Legacy". In a division of six teams Westwood placed first in every competition they were involved in with the exception of their first competition at which they placed second because they had only learned half of their performance. Legacy went on to become the Division III New England Scholastic Band Champions on March 24, 1991 at University of Massachusetts — Boston. They also brought home the award for Best Silks (flags). The 1991 Winter Guard had a season to remember for all who were involved.

We want to thank Mr. James Giurleo who helped to get us started and for his support, our wonderful instructors George, Bill and Michael, without whom we would not have become champions, and especially the Westwood Music Parents Association without whom this activity would not have become a reality.

We, the seniors, wish the best of luck to next year's Legacy.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

In June of 1990, selected juniors Heather Bartold and Lesley Bride represented WHS at Girls' State. The week-long seminar consisted of a mock study of the American political system. The program allowed two students from most Massachusetts towns to meet at Mount Holyoke and to participate in local and state governments. Students were organized into two political parties and then into either cities or towns. Participants then ran for positions varying from town treasurer to state representative to governor. All voted for candidates based on their campaigns and speeches, and then those elected officials operated similarly to those in existing state and local governments formulating bills and then voting on them. The leadership skills learned at Girls' State returned to Westwood with Heather in Safe Rides, Drama Club, as well as other organizations.

Boys' State

In June of 1990, Brian Hardiman, Michael Welby, and John Lane travelled to Bentley College to participate in Massachusetts Boys' State. The purpose of the week long program was to learn about the government and politics of the community and state. Along with the nearly 850 other representatives from high schools across the state, the three delegates from Westwood High participated in mock political caucuses, town meetings, and general elections. When not occupied by politics, the representatives participated in athletics such as softball, volleyball, basketball, and, of course, baseball. The busy (yet occasionally boring) week was highlighted by guest speaker Governor Michael Dukakis. Boys' State proved to be a rewarding and memorable experience.

Thousands of people are in prison because of their beliefs. Many of these political prisoners are held without a charge or a trial; torture and the death penalty are widespread. In many countries men, women, and children have "disappeared" after being taken into custody. Amnesty International, a worldwide movement, works for the release of these prisoners. This year's officers for the Westwood High School branch of AI were Steven McDonough, President; Brian Conley, Vice-President; Arthur Fryar, Treasurer; and John Collins, Secretary. Mr. Kevin Burke and Mr. William Wright were the advisors. Members of Amnesty wrote letters during the year urging government officials to grant human rights to their citizens. This year, AI of WHS wrote letters to officials in Guatemala, Turkey, U.S.S.R., and the U.S.A. In addition, Amnesty held several school-wide activities which included a Human Rights Awareness Week; a guest speaker; Battle of the Bands 2; lots of petition signing by both students and faculty, and a 30th anniversary celebration. Thousands of prisoners have been released due to AI's efforts over the last 30 years. Amnesty International of Westwood High has helped make a difference.

PRESIDENTIAL CLASSROOM

In June of 1990, Daiva Gostautas and Maya Khuri had the opportunity to spend a week in our nation's capitol, where they met about four hundred other students from all over the United States, Spain, England, Japan, and other countries. The students were a very diverse group, but all sharing a common characteristic: all are politically active individuals who want to learn about the processes of government. Maya and Daiva participated in crossfire debates, sat in on congressional meetings, had a chance to meet with their Senators and Representatives, and spent two days on Capitol Hill.

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

Westwood High's intellectually and culturally endowed Academic Decathlon team prevailed in the November meet held at Westwood High. The team, through diligent work on their own and with Ms. Dillon, succeeded in earning seven awards, including a few gold medals. Westwood placed eleventh out of eighteen teams which competed in the preliminary round, thereby advancing the team to the State Finals in March, held in Waltham. Here, the team placed eleventh out of fifteen teams and won two awards. This year, the Academic Decathlon's theme was Outer Space Exploration, which extended to the areas of science, fine arts, language and literature, math, social sciences, speech, essay, interview, economics, and super quiz. Senior team members held most of the competing positions, but three juniors contributed to the team. Many thanks to our advisor, Ms. Dillon, who fortified the Academic Decathlon team not only with her expertise but with nutritious M&M's as well.

MATH TEAM

The Math Team once again put forth a strong showing in competition for the 1990-91 season. In the Greater Boston Mathematics League, the team finished ninth overall, second in the small school division. The team was even more impressive in the Southeastern Massachusetts Mathematics League, ending the season in third place, and the top small school Most Valuable Mathlete honors in the SMML went to senior Captain Craig Foster, one of only six in the state to receive this prestigious award. This is the second straight year that a Westwood student has captured the MVM title.

In the state meet, despite strong competition, Julie Mao was honored as an individual high scorer for her performance. Craig Foster and junior Debbie Ringel qualified to become members of the Eastern Massachusetts All-Star Team, an invitation given to only about 45 students a year. Advisor James Pender joined the mathletes on this trip.

In closing, the team thanks Coach Pender not only for help and support, but for all the edibles as well. It also recognizes his organizational talent, a quality slightly lacking in many of the other advisors of the SMML this year. Good luck to next year's team!

PEER COUNSELORS

This is the first year a group of peer counsellors served fellow students at the high school. Under the leadership of Ms. Carol Armstrong, peer counsellors are involved in one-on-one helping relationships. They will listen and help their peers with issues ranging from substance abuse to conflicts with friends, teachers, or parents. They provide valuable support when students must deal with considerable outside pressures. To become a peer counsellor, students devote much of their time to training sessions and then time during their school day when they have their peer counseling meetings. WHS thanks them for all their efforts this year and for forging the way for future peer counsellors.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARS

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation announced in September, 1990, that even students from Westwood High School earned honors for their performance on the October, 1989, National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Exam. To earn the status of national Merit Semi-Finalist, a student must earn a qualifying score that places him/her in the top 1/2 percent of the over one million students in 19,000 secondary schools that participated in this program. In all, 15,000 students nation-wide earned this status. At Westwood High School we are proud that two students are among this select group: Craig Foster and Amy McDonnell.

To earn the status of National Merit Commended Student, a student must earn a qualifying score that places him/her in the top 5% of all student participants across the country. In all, 35,000 students nation-wide earned this status. At Westwood High School, we are proud that five students are among this select group: Chris A. Babcock, Brian C. Hardiman, Karen J. Hu, Maya M. Khuri and Thomas A. Shepherd.

SOCIÉTÉ HONORAIRE DE FRANCAIS

French Honor Society

La Société Honoraire de Francais finished the year on a high note, despite a few organizational difficulties early on. We sponsored several fund raisers, and enjoyed a scrumptious banquet with the Spanish Honor Society. As usual, however, the induction ceremony marked the club's high point. At this gala event, held in the red, white, and blue bedecked music room, several sophomores and juniors were initiated into our select group. The departing seniors would like to thank Mrs. Rice for her hard work and dedication, and wish the remaining members much luck in the year to come.

With the help of Mrs. Hollis Perry, our advisor, President Alicia Mullen, Vice-President Sherri Carver, and Secretary Jeff Lawton, Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica had a successful year. We taught Spanish to the transitional class at the Hanlon School, sold "El Toro" candy bars and, of course, no one can forget the "helados" (ice cream) on the first Friday of each month. In addition, SHH members offered services as Spanish tutors to their peers. As a culminating "fun" activity we had a pot luck supper with the French National Society. All in all, SHH'S activities and year were very successful.

Mr. Charles Flahive, guest speaker.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

National Honor Society is a service organization made up of students who have maintained high academic standards throughout their high school years. Members show leadership by serving their school, their schoolmates, and the community.

This year a group of nineteen seniors gave of their free time to organize and participate in various service projects and activities. Such projects included a soap drive for both the Haitian missions and the soldiers serving our country in the Gulf, and the initiation of school leadership workshops in which the student body, faculty, and administration could interact with each other in a forum of open communication in order to express opinions and raise new issues regarding school policies and school-wide activities. A third activity involved a freshman class enrichment program entitled "Odyssey of the Mind," in which a select group of freshmen researched the ancient city of Pompeii and produced various projects reflecting the subject. The students were mentored by various NHS members whose main purpose was to promote free-thinking and creativity. Furthermore, individual NHS members gave their time volunteering in local hospitals, serving the elderly of the community, and tutoring underclassmen in a variety of subject areas. All in all, this year's National Honor Society, with the help of its dedicated advisor Miss H. Joan Dillon, put its talents to good use in serving both the school and community.

GREEN PRIDE WEEK

Homecoming Week was truly a gala affair, as students dressed up and stripped down (only on pajama day, of course) to show their school spirit.

On Monday, students did their best to make their outfits as mismatched as possible for Clash Day. The High School's population looked even more peculiar on Tuesday, clothed in a combination of bunnysuits and college sweats. Wednesday marked the week's high point, as everyone did their best to look stupid. Thursday's color code day was quite successful. However, as usual, it was Green Pride Day, on Friday, which was most well supported.

GREEN PRIDE DAY

LIP SYNC

This year, the student body was fortunate enough to view not one, but two lip syncs. These events were enormous successes, and helped both Green Pride and Spring Fling weeks get off to a sensational start. Although all of the acts were terrific, a few deserve special note. Among these, the Jackson Five shine for their fabulous fashion sense, Pee Wee is remembered for his excellent cycling skills, and Mike Cafarella will never be forgotten as the man who did it his way.

"I did it my way . . ."

"You are so beautiful . . . to me . . ."

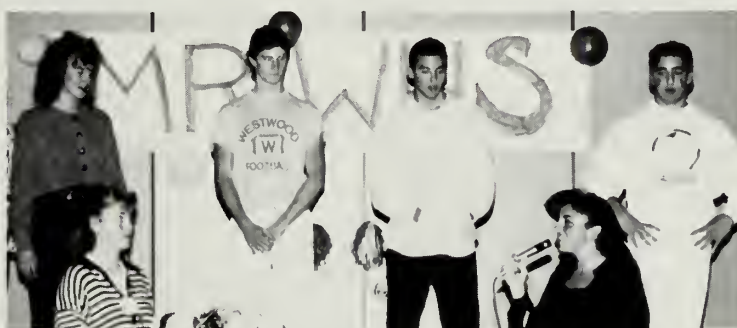

MR. WHS

Cheryl Suffredini crowns Brian Hardiman, the 1990-1991 Mr. WHS.

An all-male beauty pageant? What? Mr. Who? That's right! Every year the bravest of the brave guys at WHS strut their stuff at the annual Mr. WHS contest. The competition included a talent show, a question-and-answer session, and a whole lot of laughs. The courageous contestants were Jim "Cakes" Coffey, Andy "Finkamania" Fink, P.K. "Fitzie" Fitzgerald, Dave "Halps" Halperin, Brian "Hardi" Hardiman, Matt "Hatchy" Hatch, John "Snake" McDermott, and Mauricio "Mo" Segal. The student body watched and howled as these boys of WHS sang songs, danced like ballerinas, recited oh-so-touching poetry, and even performed a strip tease! After watching these studs' convincing and persuasive performances, the students voted for their own personal favorites. And in the end, Brian Hardiman, our very own Class President, reigned victoriously over all of WHS Land!

"And the winner is . . ."

The audience awaits the results breathlessly . . .

HOMECOMING

This year Homecoming Week was the week of November 5th. The entire school demonstrated its school spirit on Clash Day, Look Stupid Day, College Paraphernalia/Pajama Day, and, of course, Green Pride Day. The senior class collected the most points by the end of the week, proving that they indeed had the most pride and spirit in their school. The week culminated in a Friday afternoon pep rally in preparation for Saturday's game against Bellingham. The game was postponed until Sunday due to poor weather, and Westwood won the game with a score of 24-7. Cheryl Suffredini topped off her four-year streak as the representative of our class on the Homecoming Court by being named Homecoming Queen. The Homecoming Court this year consisted of seniors Michelle Grueter and Patricia Murphy, junior Sandra DiMartino, sophomore Christy Doyle, and freshman Jill Santopietro. All in all, Homecoming was an exciting, fun-filled time that livened up the fall of 1990 at Westwood High School.

(L to R): Sandra DiMartino (Junior Rep.), Cheryl Suffredini (Homecoming Queen), Patricia Murphy (Senior Rep.), Michelle Grueter (Senior Rep.), Christy Doyle (Sophomore Rep.), and Jill Santopietro (Freshman Rep.).

Westwood wins Homecoming game!

WINTER SEMI-FORMAL

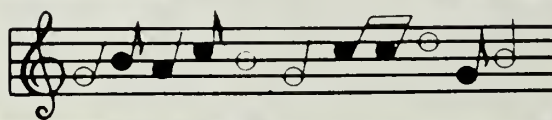

The Winter Semi-Formal, "Melt With You," sponsored by the Senior Class, was a great success with representatives from every class present. The decorations were in a winter scene with white trees and white lights creating an atmosphere of a pleasant winter night. A D.J. provided the great music that everyone had a fun time dancing to. Every couple looked beautiful in their winter semi-formal dresses and suits. The dance helped generate a happy holiday spirit for all those present. The entire night was a success thanks to the senior class officers and Ms. Rosengarten.

SORRY, SHAKESPEARE

Westwood High's innovative Drama Club twisted, maligned, and misquoted the Bard, much to the amusement of the school's students and staff, in this year's spring production of "Sorry, Shakespeare." The cast performed two clever one-act plays, "While Shakespeare Slept" and "Shakespeare Will Return." Mrs. Kelsch, the Club's able advisor, directed the show and also wrote the prologue and epilogue. Thanks to Lori McKenna, Student Director, the backstage crew, and the girls who lent Jerry Neville his neon costume.

SPRING FLING & LIP SYNC

Spring Fling '91 got off to a great start with the Volleyball Tournament kicking off the second annual Color War contest. The Red Team claimed the final victory of the volleyball battle, but the war had just begun. A Monday night dance began the actual Spring Fling Week and a student/faculty basketball game followed that up. Wednesday's Lip Sync proved to be a crowd-drawer while some upsets and surprising finishes ended the evening. Thursday hosted Westwood High's first-ever outdoor scavenger hunt, which proved to be, not only the last event of Spring Fling '91, but a popular one as well. But in the end, despite all the poster-making efforts, the Blue team held on to its title of Color War winner, the second year in a row. Thanks to our captains John McDermott, Megan Driscoll, Andy Fink, Michelle O'Connor, Steve MacDonald, and Lori Thornton. A special thanks to the entire student body for its participation in making Spring Fling '91 the best one ever!

CLASS BREAKFAST

The pre-game rally

The first senior class event was filled with anticipation about the outcome of the rivaled game. The humid, rainy October day did not dampen the players' enthusiasm. The cafeteria was adorned with the school colors, green and white. The girls displayed their team's sweatshirts to show their spirit. After a hearty breakfast, the players made their way to the field.

POWDER PUFF

Here I come!

I got it! I g . . .

The boys won?

The October morning brought a mixture of excitement and curiosity as to how the game would end. The injured on the sidelines, along with the well-formed cheerleaders, psyched the teams for a grueling challenge. The girls' teams Matt's Malicious Mamas, Campa's Kazis, Homer's Attitudes, and Fink's Fero-cious Flirts lost a close game to the boys' team coached by Mr. Topalian.

I doubt it!

We are the cheerleaders . . .

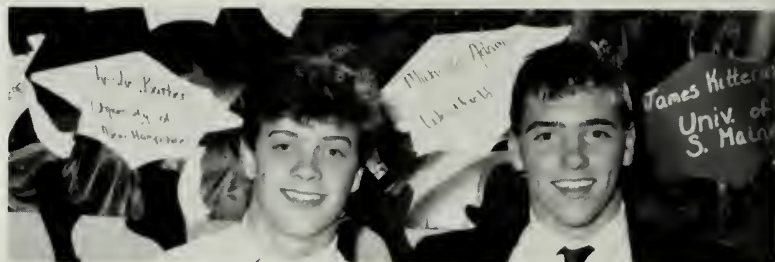

Now what?

CLASS BANQUET

Reflections of the way life used to be . . .

The senior class banquet's theme, Reflections (of the way life used to be) summarized the evening's activities. Brian Hardiman, our witty M.C., kicked off the banquet with style. The seniors listened to the sounds of the jazz band and the soloists; they laughed at the sights of themselves during their younger years; they relished in the tastes of the catered feast. The senior superlatives were announced and the class history was read. The mysterious "Novel Quest" introduced the seniors to competitive team effort.

We'll always be friends forever.

um . . . uh . . . well . . . oh . . .

Go, Jerry! Go, Jerry!

Did I ever tell you . . . ?

Anne beating the clock for team 5.

Is it over yet?!

No!!!

BEACH TRIP

Just let it rain down on me

Despite the poor weather conditions, the senior class came together and pulled off a great beach trip. Volleyball, walks on the beach, and handball with a twist kept everyone warm while they waited for the next meal to be served. Even though the water was freezing, a daring few ventured into the white caps. All in all, the senior class beach trip was very successful.

Isn't this the fifth meal of the day?

Where's the flood, Jerry?

Have a nice meal?

Not exactly beach attire.

Peek-a-boo!

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

For just a moment, perfection

After weeks of preparation, the long awaited prom took place on May 17, 1991, at the Sheraton Tara Hotel in Braintree. Sherri Carver represented the senior class as Prom Queen. Sherri was accompanied by her court including seniors Camille Perry, Laura Dicenso, Lisa Randlett, Lesley Bride, and juniors Stephanie Jones, Heidi Getchel, Denise Farren, and Alysia Ordway. Although the prom felt as if it were just a moment in our lives, the evening will last forever in everyone's memories. Thanks to the juniors and the prom committee for such a successful night.

No dates, boys?

You put your right foot in . . .

Don't eva' let me go . . .

CLASS NIGHT

The final countdown

The evening began with a cafeteria style dinner which nourished the students and parents for the long ceremony that followed. This year marked the first awards presentation to take place during the evening. The students received awards in the categories of scholarship, leadership, character, service and athletic ability.

Here she comes, how do I look?

I came, I saw, I ate.

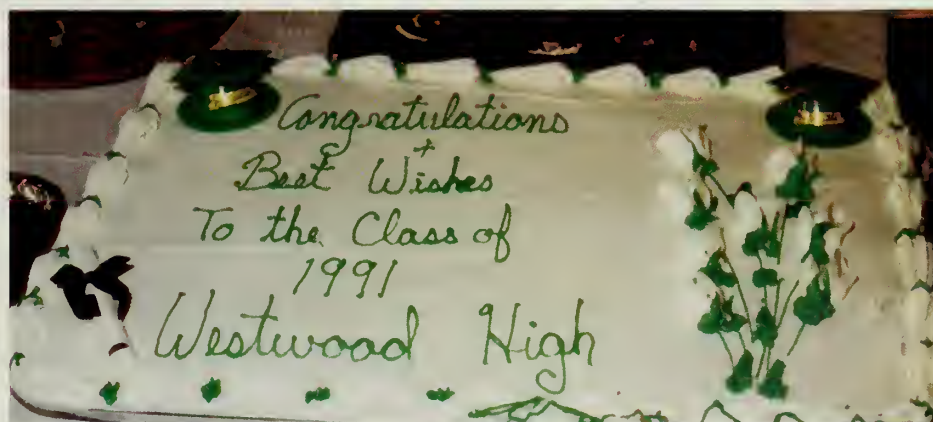

Please don't take my picture!

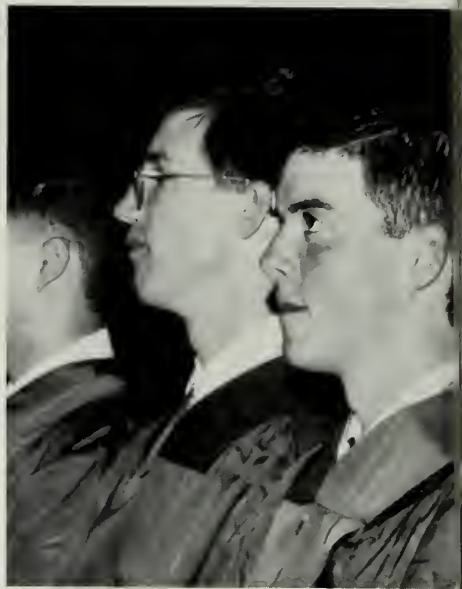

I am huge!

I'm coming, guys!

Don't be too excited, Chris!

GRADUATION

The grand finale

Despite the heat, the graduates proudly displayed their colorful caps and gowns as they marched on to the decorated field. The students proceeded to listen to the wise words of their class president, valedictorian, and principal. The students were also entertained by a reflection of the first Westwood High School graduation fifty years ago, given by a member of the Class of 1941. Everyone eagerly watched students receive awards and scholarships. The final beat of the ceremony marked the moment in which the Class of '91 became graduates.

The band kept the students in line, sort of!

I can't believe we graduated!

Friends forever

Beat the heat!

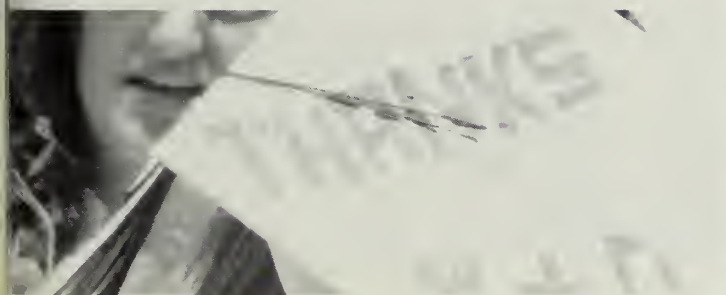

We're so proud of you!

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

In September of 1987, a brand new bunch of petrified freshmen poured out of those dreaded yellow buses and timidly entered Westwood High School. None of us were quite prepared for what greeted us, and many of us felt that we would not survive four whole years of high school. Obviously, we did ultimately make it to this point. But first we were forced to suffer through days of getting lost (and being sent to the wrong rooms), freshman initiation (which was strictly prohibited, yet we all seemed to go through it anyways!), loads of homework, endless study halls, and who could ever forget those awful science projects! Anyhow, as the year dragged on, we all learned not to ask the upperclassmen for directions, and how to cope with the hardships of high school life. We soon began to leave our own mark on Westwood High School. Under the able leadership of President Katie Sinnott, Vice-President Sue Mc Laughlin, Treasurer Tish Murphy, and Secretary Carrie O'Leary, we continued our struggle through the trials and tribulations of freshman year. Although we had already been broken into the sports program by those grueling double-sessions, we were still not fully prepared for the commitment required to be a member of a Westwood High School athletic team. This was the last year that Westwood had freshman sports, and many of us gained invaluable experience from playing on these teams. A handful of us were talented enough to hold positions on the varsity rosters, but the rest of us had to serve a couple of years on freshman and JV teams. The year 1987 was definitely a year to remember . . . it was the year Westwood made the news. People across the continent, and even as far as Moscow, read and heard about our tiny bucolic town of Westwood, MA, a town that was filled with raucous teenagers who loved to party. We were accused of putting telephones in microwaves, transforming canines into "flaming infernos," and goodness only knows what else. Whether or not these were true accusations, we are not at liberty to say. As the year came to a close, we encountered finals for the first time, and the only thing that got us through them was the prospect of summer vacation.

Well, the Class of 1991 was off to a semi-great start. We felt that nothing could be worse than being freshmen, and we were looking forward to being something other than freshmen . . . sophomores!

-Karen Hu

SOPHOMORE YEAR

In the fall of 1988, we arrived back at Westwood High School proud of our new found status as sophomores. Although we were still underclassmen, we felt some freedom at being released from those torturous studies.

We were well represented by Brian Hardiman, President; Dave Halperin, Vice President; Lori Thornton, Treasurer; and Cyndy Locke, Secretary. Mr. Russell Downes, who was always ready to help us, served as class advisor.

We worked hard - a few of us tried our first A.P. class - European History with Mr. Peter Case. As a class, we made it through Health Education. A new teacher, Mr. William Wright joined the teaching staff, blessing us with his sarcastic wit and history myth-bashing.

As athletes, the Sophomore Class was well represented. Girls Soccer and Volleyball, as well as the Hockey Team, all advanced to post-season action. Girls' Hoop snatched the TVL title for the 17th consecutive year. Surprise, surprise! The football team became the first ever undefeated team in WHS history when they beat Archbishop Williams by a score of 13 to 0 at the Superbowl Everyone, and especially the cheerleaders, had a great time at Nickerson Field. The Marching Band also had a successful season, placing third in the New England Scholastic Band Association competition.

For Homecoming Week, we participated in Hat Day, Pajama Day, Clash Day, and, of course, Green Pride Day. In the spring new activities and interests occupied our time, some of us making our debut in the spring musical "The Boyfriend," while others tried their hands at softball, baseball, track, or tennis.

At the close of the school year, we had to say goodbye to some well-loved teachers. Mrs. Natalie Carey retired after teaching "J K, L" to hundreds of keyboarding students. The girls heard their last "Hola, Chica!" as we said "Adios" to Senor Manoli Dhimitri. Mr. Peter Case completed his last year of teaching, but his gentle manner and reassuring hand would not soon be forgotten.

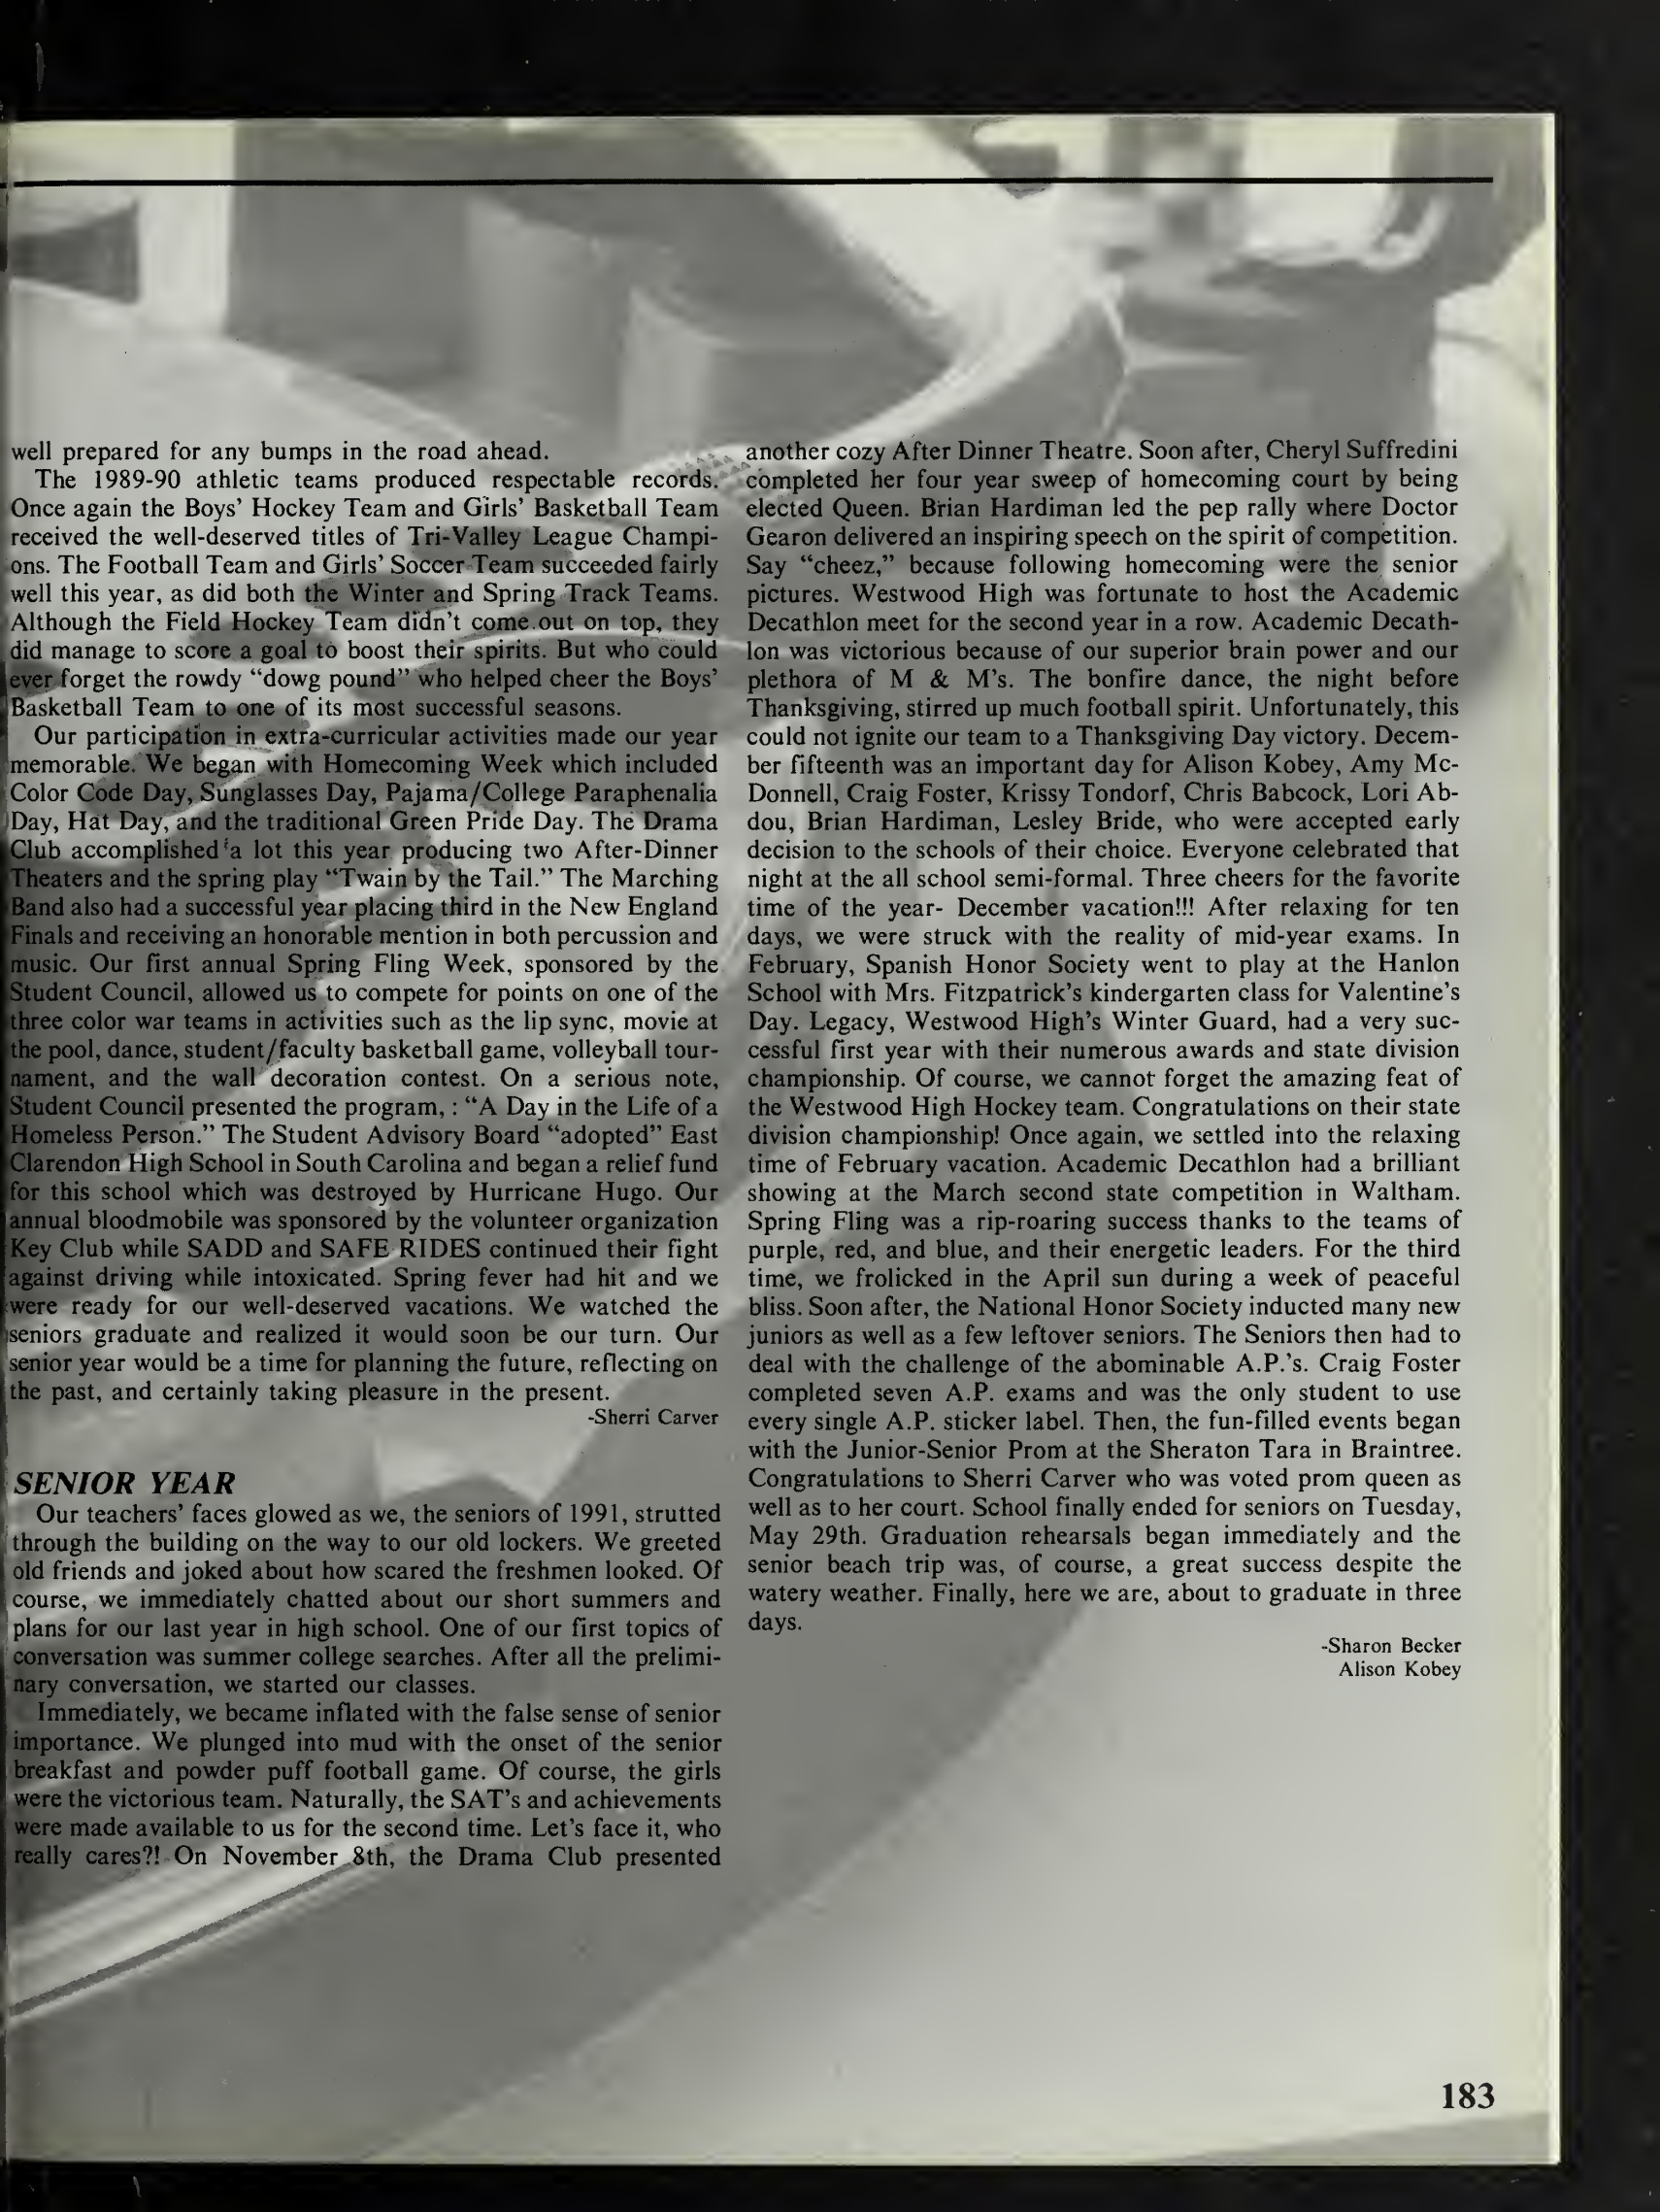

Sophomore year was a wonderful year! We were athletes, we were scholars. We studied, practiced, worked, and partied. Finally, our last papers were turned in and we finished taking our finals. We were upperclassmen at last!

-Daiva Gostautas

JUNIOR YEAR

We entered Westwood High School in the fall of 1989 under the guidance and leadership of President Brian Hardiman, Vice President David Halperin, Secretary Cynthia Locke, and Treasurer Lori Thornton. They led us spiritedly through our junior year and introduced us to new freedoms and responsibilities associated with being juniors.

Academically, we were faced with the dreaded PSAT's, SAT's Achievement Tests, and A.P. Exams. As juniors we were well aware this was our most important year academically and the dedicated and knowledgeable teaching staff made sure we were well prepared for any bumps in the road ahead.

The 1989-90 athletic teams produced respectable records. Once again the Boys' Hockey Team and Girls' Basketball Team received the well-deserved titles of Tri-Valley League Champions. The Football Team and Girls' Soccer Team succeeded fairly well this year, as did both the Winter and Spring Track Teams. Although the Field Hockey Team didn't come out on top, they did manage to score a goal to boost their spirits. But who could ever forget the rowdy "dowg pound" who helped cheer the Boys' Basketball Team to one of its most successful seasons.

Our participation in extra-curricular activities made our year memorable. We began with Homecoming Week which included Color Code Day, Sunglasses Day, Pajama/College Paraphernalia Day, Hat Day, and the traditional Green Pride Day. The Drama Club accomplished a lot this year producing two After-Dinner Theaters and the spring play "Twain by the Tail." The Marching Band also had a successful year placing third in the New England Finals and receiving an honorable mention in both percussion and music. Our first annual Spring Fling Week, sponsored by the Student Council, allowed us to compete for points on one of the three color war teams in activities such as the lip sync, movie at the pool, dance, student/faculty basketball game, volleyball tournament, and the wall decoration contest. On a serious note, Student Council presented the program, "A Day in the Life of a Homeless Person." The Student Advisory Board "adopted" East Clarendon High School in South Carolina and began a relief fund for this school which was destroyed by Hurricane Hugo. Our annual bloodmobile was sponsored by the volunteer organization Key Club while SADD and SAFE RIDES continued their fight against driving while intoxicated. Spring fever had hit and we were ready for our well-deserved vacations. We watched the seniors graduate and realized it would soon be our turn. Our senior year would be a time for planning the future, reflecting on the past, and certainly taking pleasure in the present.

-Sherri Carver

SENIOR YEAR

Our teachers' faces glowed as we, the seniors of 1991, strutted through the building on the way to our old lockers. We greeted old friends and joked about how scared the freshmen looked. Of course, we immediately chatted about our short summers and plans for our last year in high school. One of our first topics of conversation was summer college searches. After all the preliminary conversation, we started our classes.

Immediately, we became inflated with the false sense of senior importance. We plunged into mud with the onset of the senior breakfast and powder puff football game. Of course, the girls were the victorious team. Naturally, the SAT's and achievements were made available to us for the second time. Let's face it, who really cares?! On November 8th, the Drama Club presented another cozy After Dinner Theatre. Soon after, Cheryl Suffredini completed her four year sweep of homecoming court by being elected Queen. Brian Hardiman led the pep rally where Doctor Gearon delivered an inspiring speech on the spirit of competition. Say "cheez," because following homecoming were the senior pictures. Westwood High was fortunate to host the Academic Decathlon meet for the second year in a row. Academic Decathlon was victorious because of our superior brain power and our plethora of M & M's. The bonfire dance, the night before Thanksgiving, stirred up much football spirit. Unfortunately, this could not ignite our team to a Thanksgiving Day victory. December fifteenth was an important day for Alison Kobey, Amy McDonnell, Craig Foster, Krissy Tondorf, Chris Babcock, Lori Abdou, Brian Hardiman, Lesley Bride, who were accepted early decision to the schools of their choice. Everyone celebrated that night at the all school semi-formal. Three cheers for the favorite time of the year- December vacation!!! After relaxing for ten days, we were struck with the reality of mid-year exams. In February, Spanish Honor Society went to play at the Hanlon School with Mrs. Fitzpatrick's kindergarten class for Valentine's Day. Legacy, Westwood High's Winter Guard, had a very successful first year with their numerous awards and state division championship. Of course, we cannot forget the amazing feat of the Westwood High Hockey team. Congratulations on their state division championship! Once again, we settled into the relaxing time of February vacation. Academic Decathlon had a brilliant showing at the March second state competition in Waltham. Spring Fling was a rip-roaring success thanks to the teams of purple, red, and blue, and their energetic leaders. For the third time, we frolicked in the April sun during a week of peaceful bliss. Soon after, the National Honor Society inducted many new juniors as well as a few leftover seniors. The Seniors then had to deal with the challenge of the abominable A.P.'s. Craig Foster completed seven A.P. exams and was the only student to use every single A.P. sticker label. Then, the fun-filled events began with the Junior-Senior Prom at the Sheraton Tara in Braintree. Congratulations to Sherri Carver who was voted prom queen as well as to her court. School finally ended for seniors on Tuesday, May 29th. Graduation rehearsals began immediately and the senior beach trip was, of course, a great success despite the watery weather. Finally, here we are, about to graduate in three days.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1991

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1991

We, the members of the Class of 1991 of Westwood High School, Westwood, Massachusetts, county of Norfolk, make this will and revoke all previous wills and codicils.

FIRST

We leave to the Class of 1992 all those college applications and interviews and a year of "sanity" and "reckless living."

SECOND

We leave to the Class of 1993 the Junior/Senior Prom and their new identity of being upperclassmen.

THIRD

We leave to the Class of 1994 to their own sophomoric behavior.

FOURTH

We leave to the Class of 1995 a handbook detailing proper behavior and specific instructions for getting off to a great start at WHS.

FIFTH

We nominate PHILLIP F. FLAHERTY, principal of Westwood High School, executor of this will. We have signed and sealed this will on the ninth day of June, 1991.

BRIAN HARDIMAN, President

Class of 1991

I, Christopher Allen Babcock, leave to Ms. Karen Tosca, my love, affection, gratitude, and a beautiful blue and gray DUKE sweatshirt.

I, Leslie Barber, leave to Megan and Brian, one pudding pop and a pair of scissors.

I, Susan R. Barrington, leave to Mr. Calvin Toapalian, all the respect he deserves, a softer eraser, and my hair.

I, Heather Bartold, leave these words: "It can't get any worse - only better. High School is the bottom. Surviving it is the whole point. Quitting is not going to make you strong. Living will. So just hang on & hand in there."

I, Sharon Becker, leave to Eileen Neville, a few fish & the Power of Psychadelia: use it wisely, for it is a powerful weapon. Carry that weight, girl.

I, Vanessa Bickerton, leave to all the earthy- crunchy people of this world, my collection of hairspray and make- up.

I, Stephen Brady, leave to Liz Brady, NO homework, mom and dad, the stress of the college application process, and Lots of Luck.

I, Lesley Bride, leave to Judy Rich, the lungs to yell on the soccer field and a little patience, too.

I, Marlene Buckley, leave to Dianne, Lynne, & Stacey a Bertucci's preferred customer credit card.

I, Chris Canelos, leave to Westwood High School that has molded me for 4 years and made me what I am today, my broken leg.

I, Sherry Carver, leave to myself, a chauffeur and limousine to drive me around for a change.

I, Kristina Caufield, leave to Nancy Radden, all my college catalogs and good times at WHS.

I, Chris Chiofolo, leave to Elio Imbornone The Conspiracy.

I, Michael Churwin, leave to Calvin Toapalian a set of thumbs to ease the pain of scratching his head.

I, Kelly Clark, leave to the girls in my Spanish class, a lifetime of stories.

I, Kathleen Close, leave to Julie all my notes, my cowboy boots my nails, and my lunch money.

I, Brian Cox, leave to Meaghan K. Gadd, the luxury of having two lockers side by side.

I, Dan Curley, leave the school my homework and all my utensils that I used.

I, Laura DiCenso, leave to Lisa T., Lindsay T., & the rest of the '93 Field Hockey Players, my great attitude & excuses for missing practice; and to Siddan Conley, a new eyebrow.

I, Megan Driscoll, leave to the Westwood Girls Soccer Team, a prosperous, tourney-winning season.

I, Betsey Earley, leave to Stacey Doyle, enough paper, donuts and nailpolish to get her through science next year.

I, Tee Earls, leave to my dad, many more fun- filled years at Westwood High School!

I, Gary Eber, leave to Jerry Neville, a pair of drumsticks and one drum set for me to use when I come over his house.

I, Dina Esposito, leave to Jen Harrington the COUTI. Use it in good taste, Jen. Good luck with your senior year, have a great time.

I, Andy Fink, leave to Joe Peters, a full body muscle suit to fit his head.

I, Jennifer Fink, leave to Karin and Julie, Nancy to deal with.

I, Carolyn Flaherty, leave to Amy Gibbons, the power over "Homeboy" in his red C.Y.O. jacket. Have fun & "get over it!"

I, Mary Elizabeth Gadd, leave to my sister Meaghan, all of the clothes still in my closet after I've finished packing for college- but stay out of the drawers.

I, Peter Joseph Gill, leave to Denis Desmond the reservation of my 15' x 18' parking spot for the remainder of his high school career, no matter how long it takes.

I, Robert W. Grady, leave to A.P. Science, my brain.

I, Matthew J. Greenway, leave to all my teachers, thanks. I could not have done it without you.

I, Sarah Griffin, leave to Amy Gibbons, a telephone for those calls to Northside Sportswear and a picture of Craig.

I, Philip Grokulsky, leave to Andy Gozzo, all of my 20¢ credit vouchers.

I, Brady Halsted, leave to everyone: to live your life like there's no tomorrow and the power to have a good time.

I, Stacey Hamwey, leave to Erin & Alicia a marching band and colorguard for next year, lots of luck and patience, and if they don't listen, just remember you're the bosses!

I, Brian Hardiman, leave to Westwood High Hockey: the beginning of a dynasty.

I, Lynn Heneberry, leave to Dee Dee Milonas: an endless supply of Diet Coke.

I, Kelly Hess, leave to Betsy Speros: a trip to the Cape W./ Sarah, Kristin, and me.

I, Paul Higgins, leave to the girls' basketball team that I helped coach all the confidence and determination needed for continued success. Thanks for the memories and good luck!

I, Peter Hughes, leave to Mr. Calvin Topalian my thumbs and a lifetime membership to the hair club for men.

I, Mark Karafotias, leave to B.J. and Rooney all my books.

I, Anne Kendeigh, leave to Tom Shepherd fresh powder all winter long!

I, Alison Kohey, leave to Julie (Jete) Mao a set of green pencils that have flown back from Africa and the power seat in the library.

I, John Lane, leave to the 1992 Track Team the best of luck, good oral hygiene, & my crutches.

I, Jeffrey R. Lawton, leave to CB, Caf, MM, Bubba, Sean, & the rest of the Cross- Country Team respect among your peers for poor accomplishments and throngs of fans at all your meets.

I, Cyndi Locke, leave to Amy McCoy my fabulous pick-up lines.

I, John McDermott, leave to my sister Colleen the wonderful reputation I have left for her.

I, Kevin Michael McDermott, leave to Mr. Rellava all my uncollected toll money and his own Boston Herald newspaper.

I, Amy McDonnell, leave to Matt Prout the memory of all our enlightening conversations, and the knowledge that he failed in his quest.

I, Theresa Martin, leave to Debbie, Rania, & Amy my locker and to the Class of '92, the school.

I, Patrick John Meleo, leave to Westwood High 1 pair of 1 year old unwashed gym socks.

I, Dina J. Moore, leave to my family all the sets of car keys.

I, Robin Morrison, leave to Alicia Mullen the fingers that will snatch Gotcha Type Nice!

I, Alicia Mullen, leave to Robin Morrison all the possible excuses to where you are and who you're with on Saturday nights.

I, Mull, leave to Dez- monster the ancient art of Lambada.

I, Tish Murphy, leave to Jen Harrington a chocolate santa & to Erin O'Brien my wardrobe.

I, Kristen Nykvist, leave to Christopher Babcock lots of writing paper, a telephone, and my love.

I, Carrie O'Leary, leave to Lori Thornton a safe ride and a bucket!

I, Joe Peters, leave to Dave Tenofsky the nickname "WEIDERS."

I, Cal Prinn, leave to Rich a slam dunk dream come true, the Pond Plain home court advantage, and a rematch . . . Steve: a cure for the white man's disease (share it with Rich!)

I, Sean Quinn, leave to Sue Adams a raincoat for protection.

I, Jon Rhinerson, leave to the Class of '92 the power to have a good time . . . 'cause they need it.

I, Catherine Samiotis, leave to Peter Samiotis all my luck and much luck in hockey! May you be successful in all your endeavors. May all your wishes and dreams come true.

I, Mauricio Segal, leave to the other classes the ability to laugh, party, & be truly happy; you're gonna need it.

I, Tom Shepherd, leave to Anne Kendeigh: the ability to make decisions without the hassle of making them herself.

I, Christopher Spellman, leave to Andy Gozzo my single seat & to the rest of the team as much luck and pride needed to repeat in '92.

I, Josh Steinfeld, leave to Jason Keller the voice box of the late Jim Morrison.

I, Cheryl Suffredini, leave to Christy K. a diaper for those big games.

I, Kelly Susco, leave to Alicia Hamwey another pathetic disciple to take under her wing and assist in the ever-challenging pursuit of math knowledge.

I, Jennifer Sykes, leave to Kellie Noumi a dirty joke book, a hair dryer, & a pair of flowered pants.

I, Lori Thornton, leave to Michelle O'Connor's college roommate a pair of ear plugs.

I, Kristine Tondorf, leave to Brad Rutan a grilled ham & cheese, a mocha Bergie, the middle name "Cassanova", & an Arizona Championship (sorry Kurt!)

I, Chris Walter, leave to the next piano player all the hectic responsibility and cut-throat anxiety along with the honor.

I, Audrey Young, leave to Westwood High once white, but now stained brown Nike sneakers that I've worn to every gym class for the past four years.

I, Kimberly Noel Theodore, leave to the Westwood Girls' Field Hockey Team an actual goal . . . you guys deserve it!!

I, Randall Miller, leave to all incoming freshmen integrity, wisdom and humor. It's a long road ahead and it doesn't get any easier.

I, Dineen Wilson, leave to Garrett Domina a pair of maroon tights with a diamond design for the next drama performance.

I, Michelle O'Connor, leave to Lori Thornton, a round trip to Medfield in the Gigi, and a calling card so she can talk to my mother whenever she wants.

I, Evan Owens, leave to Sean Libby the Westwood track toothbrush so that the track team may carry on the tradition of good oral hygiene.

I, Jerry Neville, leave to the 1991 store staff my wisdom of business, creative ideas, friendly relations with Pepsi and the "Candy-man", and the power of the 1991 staff.

I, Dee Milonas, leave to Lynn Heneberry a good homecooked meal.

I, Paul K. Fitzgerald, leave to society my brain, to the museum of Fine Arts my body.

I, Jay Jenks, leave to Nancy Ilfeld, all the ice my freezer that she can take. Have fun!!

Heather,

I am very proud of you and all of your accomplishments. As you end your high school days and begin a new phase of your life don't forget to . . .

Laugh Heartily. Spread Joy, Take a Chance. Reach out. Let Someone in. Try Something New. Slow Down. Be Soft Sometimes. Celebrate Life. Believe in Yourself. Trust Others. See a Sunrise. Listen to Rain. Reminisce. Cry When You Need To. Know that I Love You . . . and I will Always Be There For You.

All My Love,
Dad
